

WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD.

VOL. 27. NO. 40

WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1912

Ten Cents a Week

The Herald
Is gaining steadily in circulation every day.
READ IT!

A CONFESSION IS EXPECTED FROM HOCKIN

Expected to Reach Agreement Before Indictments Returned.

REFUSED BY GOVERNMENT

Eight Labor Leaders Arrested on Charges of Conspiracy to Break Open-Shop Movement by Use of Dynamite—Twenty Cities Involved and Period of Six Years Covered by Federal Grand Jury Investigation—A. F. of L. Is Exonerated.

Indianapolis, Feb. 15.—In addition to the 38 or more men already under indictment in connection with the dynamite cases, it is not denied at the federal building that there are from 20 to 30 others who have been caught in the net and will be arrested. Many all of the accused men are or have been members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' organization.

They were in the great conspiracy to destroy property and break up the open-shop movement, however, and are charged with some other act in connection with members of the iron workers in the work of destruction. M. Ryan, president of the national union; Herbert S. Hockin, secretary-treasurer; J. T. Butler, vice president; Fred T. Shoenberger, business agent of the local union of iron workers; and S. P. Jones, business agent of the eastern union were arrested here. They were taken at once to the office of the United States marshal, where they were held. Ryan and Hockin in the sum of $10,000 each and the others the sum of $5,000 each.

What Arrests Disclose.
The arrests bring before the court the full extent of the alleged dynamite conspiracy and show what the government accuses of having had a connection with a national criminal organization formed by iron workers and others to carry on the battles of unionism with dynamite and nitroglycerin. Caught in the net of the government in all parts of the country are labor men who are accused here of having had a hand in the conspiracy, or in overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy. Arrests which occurred in 20 or more cities in six years, and for which no one was punished, again came up before the public, and local communities find that the government is attempting to bring to justice many men who have not hitherto been known to be connected with dynamiting game. A total of 54 men were indicted by the federal grand jury, it was learned at the federal court March 12.

Herbert S. Hockin, the secretary-treasurer of the iron workers, made attempts to reach an agreement with the government after the trial began, but all overtures were rejected as the officials believed him to be one of the leaders in the conspiracy and were certain of his innocence and punishment. It is no secret that he will make a clean confession of the whole conspiracy.

He was before the grand jury as a willing witness, but no promises of immunity were made. He told that the government did ask him to accuse himself and if he would do so at his own risk, he would do so.

He was made in three Ohio cities as follows:
Cincinnati—Edward Clark, former agent of Cincinnati iron workers; Ernest Basey, former business agent Indianapolis iron workers; Cleveland—Peter J. Smith, business agent Cleveland iron workers; G. N. Larson, member of the union, Dayton—William Bernhardt of Cincinnati.

Rebels Ambush Rurales

Nearly Half Hundred Killed While on Relief March.

Mexico City, Feb. 15.—Rural guards to the number of 48, under command of Captain Armijo, comprising the advance guard of Cosío Rebel's columns, which were marching to the relief of Joluita near Cuernavaca, were ambushed by rebels at Higueron, and before reinforcements arrived 5 of the rurales had been killed and 11 desperately wounded. Not a single rebel was hurt. Further on the main federal column was ambushed and seven soldiers were killed. No rebels were injured. The federal column succeeded in reaching Joluita, causing great joy to the people, although the siege was not raised. Captain Armijo of the advance guard was killed in the first ambush.

TEDDY CONFERS WITH FRIENDS

Seeks Advice as to Keynote Speech Next Week.

WILL DEFINE HIS POSITION

Ohio Constitutional Convention Is Selected as Place for First Definite Announcement as to Former President's Ideas on Progressive Movement—Conferee Says That if Nominated and Elected Colonel Will Not Be as Radical as LaFollette.

New York, Feb. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt outlined the platform on which he will stand for election if he is nominated by the Republicans at the Chicago convention, at a conference in which Governor Hiram Johnson of California, ex-Senator Philip of Pittsburgh, William Nelson of Kansas City and E. A. Van Valkenburg of Philadelphia took part. The conferees discussed with the ex-president.

(Continued on Page Four.)

Remarkable Photographs of Niagara Ice Bridge Tragedy

Photos by American Press Association.

NIAGARA has been the scene of many tragedies, but of few if any more thrilling than that enacted there when the ice bridge which spanned the river below the falls went to pieces and carried three sightseers to death in the Whirlpool rapids. The day was bright, and among the crowds which watched the scene from places of safety was the photographer who made the extraordinary pictures from which our illustrations are reproduced. The two lonely figures indicated by the arrows were Eldridge Stanton and his wife of Toronto, and the two views show them as they were on which they were imprisoned moved slowly to destruction in the grinding millstone of the great whirlpool. Mr. Stanton had an opportunity to save himself as the doe drifted under a bridge from which would be rescuers had let down a rope which he caught and vainly tried to fasten about his wife. The third victim, Burrell Heacock of Cleveland, caught on another ice cake succeeded in grasping a rope thrown to him, but could not keep his hold up, it and fell back into the river.

Will Not Drop Case

Friends of Folke E. Brandt Push Conspiracy Charges.

New York, Feb. 15.—The most interesting developments in the Folke E. Brandt case had to do with the grand jury investigation. It is now known that indictments for conspiracy are expected by District Attorney Whitman as the result of the inquiry as to what influence were used in getting Brandt into the pen for a long term. A pardon for Brandt—and that is likely to come any day—will of course have no effect on the conspiracy investigation. Both the district attorney and the attorney general are determined to get all the facts and proceed against any persons the grand jury may point out.

In that connection, it is known that Judge Rosalesky Howard S. Cars, counsel for Mortimer L. Schiff, Mr. Schiff himself, Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin and a man named Rothchild met at the Criterion club a few days before Brandt was sentenced.

BRANDT PRINCIPALS

Prisoner and Judge Who Gave Him Thirty Years.

Above, Brandt, photo by American Press Association; below, Rosalesky, photo by American Press Association.

Talk Ancient History

Representatives of Ohio's Capitals Celebrate Columbus Centenary.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—The one hundredth anniversary of Columbus as Ohio's capital was celebrated in the house of representatives, addresses being made by representatives of cities which have been connected with Ohio's history as seats of government. D. H. Riley talked on behalf of Marietta, the first seat of territorial government; Stanley E. Bowdler for Cincinnati, as the second seat of territorial government; H. H. Bennett of Chillicothe, for that city as the first state capital; P. A. Carr for Zanesville, as the second capital of Ohio, and John A. Poland of Chillicothe as a member of the present Ohio-Columbus centennial commission.

BIGELOW LOSES IN FIRST ROUND

Caucus Favors Percentage Plan in I. & R. Proposal.

CROSSER IS DISGRUNTLED

Cuyahoga County Constitutional Delegate Insists That He Will Continue Fight to Have Flat Numbers Prevail in Securing Petitions. Brown of Highland Objects to Low Percentages Proposed by Stillwell. State Road Proposition Gains.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—President Bigelow and Delegate Crosser of Cuyahoga county were overruled by 28 to 25, on the first proposition they took before the caucus of initiative and referendum supporters of the constitutional convention. The caucus decided that percentages and not flat numbers should be used in the I. and R. proposal. The caucus followed a banquet at the Hartman hotel. More than 60 attended, and it was given out that 15 were kept away for various reasons.

Mr. Bigelow accepted the caucus action with good grace and asked to have the decision made unanimous, but Delegate Crosser was far from being in a good humor and intimated he would continue the struggle for the proposition that 2000 electors should raise a referendum on a legislative act and 8000 may initiate a law.

Crosser keeps up fight. Immediately after the vote, which followed a spirited debate, Delegate Stillwell of Cuyahoga moved that the percentages be: To referendum a legislative act, 5 per cent; to initiate a measure, 5 per cent; to initiate a constitutional amendment, 7 per cent. He sought to press the motion, but Delegate Brown of Highland objected, declaring he was elected on an 8, 10 and 12 per cent pledge. President Bigelow suggested adjournment until 7:30 Tuesday evening, and this plan was adopted. In the meantime he and close friends will try to line up the delegates for as low percentages as they can secure.

Agreement to incorporate in the Harris amendment to the Lampson road roads proposal amendments by Delegate Price of Perry, by which "a system of intercounty roads throughout the state" is assured, made supporters of the proposal certain at the end of another day's debate that the proposition could be brought to a vote today.

Child Prevents Tragedy

Banker Sneed Tells How He Tried to Murder Erring Wife.

Felt Worth, Tex., Feb. 15.—How he had attempted to kill his wife and then end his own life when he heard that young A. G. Boyce had alienated Mrs. Sneed's affections, was told a jury by J. B. Sneed, millionaire banker of Amarillo, Tex., who took the witness stand in an attempt to save himself from the gallows for the murder of Boyce's father.

Sneed said that shortly after he learned of the friendship of his wife and Boyce, he entered her room with a revolver, intending to slay her. As he was getting ready to fire, his little daughter Lenore, 10, ran into the room and prevented the tragedy.

CLEVELAND MURDER MYSTERY IS SOLVED BY MAN'S CONFESSION

Convict Admits He Shot Attorney William Rice.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—Detective Dimalo, superintendent of the Pinkerton agency in Pittsburgh, believes that through a confession obtained from Vincenzo Pellato, a convict in the Ohio penitentiary, he has solved the mystery surrounding the murder of Attorney William L. Rice, who was found dead on Euclid boulevard, a short distance from his mansion, on the night of Aug. 5, 1910. Near him were two bags which had evidently been used by chicken thieves. According to Dimalo, Pellato, who with Michael Tomasello, was arrested for holding up and robbing a woman six days after the murder in Bluestone, a suburb, had been caught with a third man by Rice as they were leaving the yard of R. L. Palmer, a neighbor. The three were carrying a bag of chickens.

According to the confession Rice attempted to hold one of the men, and in the struggle which followed Pellato shot him. The three then escaped. Tomasello was arrested in Brooklyn and Pellato was captured in Black Diamond, Cal. The third man is still at large, but the search for him has been dropped.

Utica Woman Held

Is Charged With Killing Man With Whom She Eloped.

Utica, O., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Azora Tarene was arrested here and is imprisoned without bond, awaiting the arrival of officers from Canonsburg, Pa., where she is wanted on a charge of first degree murder, for the alleged killing of Charles Atherton. Mrs. Tarene is said to have eloped with Atherton three weeks ago. They went to Canonsburg, but last week Mrs. Tarene returned and telephoned Atherton's mother that he was seriously ill in Pittsburgh. Her conflicting stories caused the mother to communicate with the Canonsburg authorities. They started an investigation, which resulted in the finding of Atherton's body with several bullet holes in it. It arrived here for burial.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

WASHINGTON DAILY HERALD.

The Herald
Is gaining steadily in circulation every day.
READ IT!

VOL. 27. NO. 40

WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1912

Ten Cents a Week

A CONFESSION IS EXPECTED FROM HOCKIN

Refused to Reach Agreement Before Indictments Returned.

REFUSED BY GOVERNMENT

Eight Labor Leaders Arrested on Charges of Conspiracy to Break Open-Shop Movement by Use of Dynamite—Twenty Cities Involved and Period of Six Years Covered by Federal Grand Jury Investigation—A. F. of L. Is Exonerated.

Indianapolis, Feb. 15.—In addition to the 35 or more men already under indictment in connection with the dynamite cases, it is not denied at the federal building that there are from 20 to 30 others who have been caught in the net and will be arrested. Early all of the accused men are believed to have been members of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' organization.

They were in the great conspiracy to destroy property and break up the open-shop movement, however, and are charged with some other act in connection with members of the organization in the work of destruction.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the International union, Herbert S. Hockin, secretary-treasurer, J. T. Butler, vice president, Fred T. Sherman, business agent of the local union of iron workers, and S. P. Jones, business agent of the carmen's union, were arrested here and taken at once to the office of the 2d States marshal, where they are held. Ryan and Hockin in the sum of $10,000 each and the others the sum of $5,000 each.

What Arrests Disclose.

The arrests bring before the court the full extent of the alleged dynamite conspiracy and show what the government accuses of having had a connection with a national criminal organization formed by iron workers and others to fight the battles of unionism with dynamite and nitroglycerin. Caught in the net of the government in all parts of the country are labor men who are accused here of having had a hand in the conspiracy, or in overt acts in furtherance of the conspiracy. Persons which occurred in 20 or more cities in six years, and for which no one was punished, again came up before the public, and local authorities find that the government is attempting to bring to justice many men who have not hitherto been known to be connected with the dynamite game. A total of 54 persons were indicted by the federal grand jury. It was learned at the federal building. All defendants will be arraigned before Judge Anderson in federal court March 12.

Herbert S. Hockin, the secretary-treasurer of the iron workers, made attempts to reach an agreement with the government after the arrest, but all overtures were refused, as the officials believed him to be one of the leaders in the conspiracy and were certain of his intent and punishment. It is no secret that he will make a clean confession of the whole conspiracy. He was before the grand jury as a willing witness, but no promises of immunity were made. He was told that the government did not ask him to accuse himself and if he gave any testimony of that kind would do so at his own risk.

Arrests were made in three Ohio cities as follows:
Cincinnati—Edward Clark, former business agent of Cincinnati iron workers; Ernest Rasey, former business agent of Cincinnati iron workers.
Cleveland—Peter J. Smith, business agent of Cleveland iron workers; G. N. Brown, member of the union.
Dayton—William Bernhardt of Cincinnati.

To be happy you must work. The miserable people in this world are those who do not work and who without aim or ambition.

Rebels Ambush Rurales

Nearly Half Hundred Killed While on Relief March.

Mexico City, Feb. 15.—Rural guards to the number of 48, under command of Captain Armelino, comprising the advance guard of Cosío Rebel's column, which were marching to the relief of Jofutla near Cuernavaca, were ambushed by rebels at Higueron, and before reinforcements arrived 35 of the rurales had been killed and 11 desperately wounded. Not a single rebel was hurt. Further on the main federal column was ambushed and seven soldiers were killed. No rebels were injured. The federal column succeeded in reaching Jofutla, causing great joy to the people, although the siege was not raised. Captain Armelino of the advance guard was killed in the first ambush.

Remarkable Photographs of Niagara Ice Bridge Tragedy

Photos by American Press Association.

NIAGARA has been the scene of many tragedies, but of few if any more thrilling than that enacted there when the ice bridge which spanned the river below the falls went to pieces and carried three sightseers to death in the Whirlpool rapids. The day was bright, and among the crowds which watched the scene from places of safety was the photographer who made the extraordinary pictures from which our illustrations are reproduced. The two lonely figures indicated by the arrows were Eldridge Stanton and his wife of Toronto, and the two views show them as the ice broke on which they were imprisoned moved slowly to destruction in the grinding whirlpool of the great whirlpool. Mr. Stanton had an opportunity to save himself as the ice drifted under a bridge from which would be rescued. He let down a rope which he caught and vainly tried to fasten about his wife. The third victim, Burrell Hescok of Cleveland, caught on another ice cake, succeeded in grasping a rope thrown to him, but could not keep his hold upon it and fell back into the river.

TEDDY CONFERS WITH FRIENDS

Seeks Advice as to Keynote Speech Next Week.

WILL DEFINE HIS POSITION

Ohio Constitutional Convention Is Selected as Place For First Definite Announcement as to Former President's Ideas on Progressive Movement—Conferees Say That If Nominated and Elected Colonel Will Not Be as Radical as LaFollette.

New York, Feb. 15.—Theodore Roosevelt outlined the platform on which he will stand for election if he is nominated by the Republicans at the Chicago convention at a conference in which Governor Hiram Johnson of California, ex-Senator Plann of Pittsburgh, William Nelson of Kansas City and E. A. Van Valkenburgh of Philadelphia took part. The conference ended with the colonel's (Continued on Page Four.)

Will Not Drop Case

Friends of Folke E. Brandt Push Conspiracy Charges.

New York, Feb. 15.—The most interesting developments in the Folke E. Brandt case had to do with the grand jury investigation. It is now known that indictments for conspiracy are expected by District Attorney Whitman as the result of the inquiry as to what improper influences were used in getting Brandt into the pen for a long term. A pardon for Brandt—and that is likely to come any day—will of course have no effect on the conspiracy investigation. Both the district attorney and the attorney general are determined to get all the facts and proceed against any persons the grand jury may point out.

In that connection, it is known that Judge Rosovsky, Howard S. Gans, counsel for Mortimer L. Schiff, Mr. Schiff himself, Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin and a man named Rothschild met at the Criterion club a few days before Brandt was sentenced.

BRANDT PRINCIPALS

Prisoner and Judge Who Gave Him Thirty Years.

Above, Brandt, photo © 1912, by American Press Association; below, Rosovsky, photo by American Press Association.

Talk Ancient History

Representatives of Ohio's Capitals Celebrate Columbus Centenary.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—The one hundredth anniversary of Columbus as Ohio's capital was celebrated in the house of representatives, addresses being made by representatives of cities which have been connected with Ohio's history as seats of government. D. H. Riley talked of behalf of Marietta, the first seat of territorial government; Stanley E. Bowdler for Cincinnati, as the second seat of territorial government; H. H. Bennett of Chillicothe, for that city as the first state capital; P. A. Carr for Zanesville, as the second capital of Ohio, and John A. Poland of Chillicothe as a member of the present Ohio-Columbus centennial commission.

BIGELOW LOSES IN FIRST ROUND

Caucus Favors Percentage Plan in I. & R. Proposal.

CROSSER IS DISGRUNTLED

Cuyahoga County Constitutional Delegate Insists That He Will Continue Fight to Have Flat Numbers Prevail in Securing Petitions. Brown of Highland Objects to Low Percentages Proposed by Stillwell. State Road Proposition Gains.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—President Bigelow and Delegate Crosser of Cuyahoga county were overruled by 28 to 23 on the first proposition they took before the caucus of initiative and referendum supporters of the constitutional convention. The caucus decided that percentages and not flat numbers should be used in the I. & R. proposal. The caucus followed a banquet at the Hartman hotel. More than 60 attended, and it was given out that 13 were kept away for various reasons.

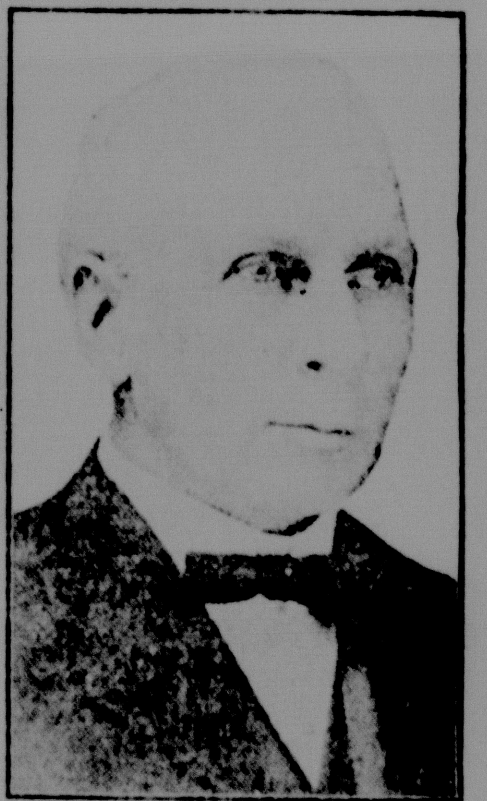

Mr. Bigelow accepted the caucus action with good grace and asked to have the decision made unanimous. But Delegate Crosser was far from being in a good humor and intimated he would continue the struggle for the principle that 50,000 electors must cause a referendum on a legislative act and 80,000 may initiate a law.

Crosser Keeps Up Fight.

Immediately after the vote, which followed a spirited debate, Delegate Stillwell of Cuyahoga moved that the percentages be: To referendum a legislative act, 5 per cent; to initiate a measure, 6 per cent; to initiate a constitutional amendment, 7 per cent. He sought to press the motion, but Delegate Brown of Highland objected, declaring he was elected on an 8, 10 and 12 per cent pledge. President Bigelow suggested adjournment until 7:30 Tuesday evening, and this plan was adopted. In the meantime he and close friends will try to line up the delegates for as low percentages as they can secure.

GEORGE H. COLTON

Represents Portage County in Constitutional Convention.

Agreement to incorporate in the Harris amendment to the Lampion good roads proposal amendments by Delegate Price of Perry, by which "a system of intercounty roads throughout the state" is assured, made supporters of the proposal certain at the end of another day's debate that the proposition could be brought to a vote today.

Child Prevents Tragedy

Banker Snead Tells How He Tried to Murder Ewing Wife.

Fair Worth, Tex., Feb. 15.—How he had attempted to kill his wife and then end his own life when he heard that young A. G. Boyce had alienated Mrs. Snead's affections, was told a jury by J. B. Snead, millionaire banker of Amarillo, Tex., who took the witness stand in an attempt to save himself from the gallows for the murder of Boyce's father.

Snead said that shortly after he learned of the friendship of his wife and Boyce, he entered her room with a revolver, intending to slay her. As he was getting ready to fire, his little daughter Lenore, 10, ran into the room and prevented the tragedy.

CLEVELAND MURDER MYSTERY IS SOLVED BY MAN'S CONFESSION

Convict Admits He Shot Attorney William Rice.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—Detective Dimmo, superintendent of the Pinkerton agency in Pittsburgh, believes that through a confession obtained from Vincenzo Pellato, a convict in the Ohio penitentiary, he has solved the mystery surrounding the murder of Attorney William L. Rice, who was found dead on Euclid boulevard, a short distance from his mansion, on the night of Aug. 5, 1910. Near him were two bags which had evidently been used by chicken thieves. According to Dimmo, Pellato, who with Michael Tomasello, was arrested for holding up and robbing a woman six days after the murder in Bluestone, a suburb, had been caught with a third man by Rice as they were leaving the yard of R. L. Palmer, a neighbor. The three were carrying a bag of chickens.

According to the confession Rice attempted to hold one of the men, and in the struggle which followed Pellato shot him. The three then escaped. Tomasello was arrested in Brooklyn and Pellato was captured in Black Diamond, Cal. The third man is still at large, but the search for him has been dropped.

Utica Woman Held

Is Charged With Killing Man With Whom She Elope.

Utica, O., Feb. 15.—Mrs. Azora Tarone was arrested here and is imprisoned without bond, awaiting the arrival of officers from Canonsburg, Pa., where she is wanted on a charge of first degree murder, for the alleged killing of Charles Atherton. Mrs. Tarone is said to have eloped with Atherton three weeks ago. They went to Canonsburg, but last week Mrs. Tarone returned and telephoned Atherton's mother that he was seriously ill in Pittsburgh. Her conflicting stories caused the mother to communicate with the Canonsburg authorities. They started an investigation, which resulted in the finding of Atherton's body with several bullet holes in it. It arrived here for burial.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

Empire Opera House

SOCIETY AND DRAMATIC EVENT OF SEASON
ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

Thursday, February 15

AS NEW YORK VIEWED IT.

"Scores genuine laughing hit."—World.
"Funniest play that New York has ever seen."—Telegram.
"The longer you listen, the longer you laugh."—Alan Dale, American.
"A remarkable success."—Evening Sun.
"One of the funniest."—Herald.
"A genuine popular success."—Sun.
"Had people rolling with laughter for hours."—Times.

Wm. A. Brady, Ltd., Announces His Greatest Success.

BABY MINE.

Is The Funniest Play Ever Written.

BY MARGARET MAYO, author of "Polly of The Circus," and "The Country Boy."

Just Out of New York After a Solid Year's Run at Daly's Theatre.

Now Playing Its 300th Performance in London. In Preparation at Berlin, Paris, Vienna

It's One Big, Clean, Healthy Laugh.

AS CHICAGO SAW IT.

"More reasons for laughter than in any other play of the age."—Daily News.
"The situations are most ludicrous."—Tribune.
"Recommended to the tired business man."—Inter-Ocean.
"More laughter where 'Baby Mine' plays than in any other theater in America."—Journal.

PRICES:

25c, 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50

Seat Sale opens at Baldwin's Drug Store 9 a. m., Wednesday

Cherry Hill Schoolhouse Not Available This Term

DELAY CAUSES INCONVENIENCE

Contract Called for Completion of Structure Last November. Will Be Finished Late in April and Will Probably Not Be Used Until Next Fall—Contractor Is Seriously Ill.

Cherry Hill School house will probably not be used for school purposes until school opens up next fall, notwithstanding that the contract for the building called for completion by November last year.

It is now estimated that the building will not be finished until late in April, and the Board of Education will probably not change teachers and pupils who go into the new building, from their present locations, believing that to do so for the short time during the remainder of the present school term would not be best for the pupils.

The work, which has progressed so slowly, has been done thoroughly, and the building is probably the most substantial for the amount invested that can be found in Ohio today.

In addition to being delayed several weeks during the past summer and fall on account of material not arriving on time, it is hinted that there was some little friction between the architects and Contractor George Fenzel, who is also erecting a school building at West Jefferson, where the real difficulty is said to have occurred. Mr. Fenzel is now critically ill with little hope of recovery.

A great deal of the interior finishing remains to be done, including the laying of floors. The structure, standing as it does upon the hill above Oakland avenue, is a handsome one.

The delay in completing the building has caused the Board of Education extra work and has been the means of considerable inconvenience to teachers and pupils.

If the building is not used for school purposes until next fall, the new High School building will then be completed and the changing about will start in with the beginning of the school term, so that no interruption will occur.

With the reappearance of warmer weather, work on the new High school building is progressing nicely, and during the winter enough work has been done to insure speedy headway when the weather permits.

PILES—FREE TREATISE

Thousands of severe long standing cases of piles have been cured by my new method after salves, ointments, suppositories and surgery have failed. It is a home treatment. My illustrated booklet "The Sense and Nonsense of Pile Cures" mailed free upon request. Address Dr. Floyd G. Wendle, Dept. O, Danville, Ill.

Road Disappearing In Big Sink Hole

The county commissioners of Logan county are puzzled over a mammoth sink hole near West Liberty, where 150 feet of highway is slowly sinking until it has become impassable, and some parts of it have disappeared in an underground cavern.

Logan county has a number of these peculiar sink holes, owing to the yielding nature of the earth which for the most part, is water soaked and contains much quicksand.

The sink hole above mentioned is near the home of R. A. Richardson, a former resident of Fayette county.

Forced Wife From Buggy And Made Her Walk Home

Francis Dallas, formerly of this county, and who until recently has been a resident of the Good Hope vicinity, has filed suit for alimony in the Common Pleas court of Ross county against her husband, William S. Dallas.

The couple were married in this city in August, 1906, and she says that on account of his extreme cruelty toward her she left him in December, 1911.

One of the allegations made by Mrs. Dallas is that while they were driving home to Good Hope on the DEATH OF MRS.

MARY J. ANTHONI

Mrs. Mary J. Anthoni passed quietly into the great beyond in the early dawn of Thursday morning at the home of her son, Mr. H. C. Anthoni, on North street.

A woman having remarkably good health all her life, Mrs. Anthoni began to fail last fall and for the past three weeks has been confined to her bed.

About 17 years ago Mrs. Anthoni came from her home in Delaware to make her home with her son here and the closing years of her life were happily spent in the devoted care of the son and his wife. She also leaves two sons in Chicago, Albert and Will, the former reaching here Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at the residence on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the remains will be taken on the 5:02 o'clock P. & O. train Saturday morning to Delaware for burial.

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich. will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

MANILA'S OLD FORT

SANTIAGO WAS BUILT MORE THAN 300 YEARS AGO.

Key of City's Vast System of Defense Constructed by the Spaniards Is Now Used as Military Headquarters.

A score of miles down the bay from Manila, right at the very front door of the archipelago, lies hidden on Corregidor Island a veritable hornet's nest of masked batteries. According to the Overland Monthly, these batteries make the Port Arthur impositions of yesterday seem like mere old-fashioned toys, and paper ones at that.

The Gruson turrets, made of concrete and steel and sunk on rock foundations, natural or artificial, in the deep, resembling huge gray turtles sticking up out of the water with protruding gun barrels for necks, occupy El Fraile and other small islets in the vicinity, while old hump-backed Corregidor is covered from crest to shore line with guns, a honeycomb of underground cement tunnels, pits and runways, wireless equipment, electrical apparatus, searchlights and other contrivances to aid in repelling an enemy.

When it comes to age and romantic history, however, old Fort Santiago is far ahead of Corregidor. Manila's walled city, a town in itself, consisting of several city blocks with paved streets, business houses and large dwellings is surrounded by a stone wall about thirty feet high and from thirty to forty feet thick.

The walls once were skirted on the outside by a deep moat, filled with water having drawbridges at the various gates. Most if not all of the moat has now been filled in, but no doubt the walls will stand for years if for no other reason than for their historical interest.

Of this vast yet crude system of defense Fort Santiago stands as the key. What the Tower of London is to England, what the Vatican is to Rome, what the Bunker Hill monument is to the United States, Fort Santiago is to the Philippine Islands.

The Spanish invaders made Manila their headquarters in 1571 and began to fortify it about twenty years later. The first stone construction was the circular wall, which is still standing. Since the American occupation of the fort its armament has been taken away and the buildings within the park have been converted into barracks and storerooms.

Commodious office buildings have been erected on top of the walls along and overlooking the Pasig, and here the commanding general of the Philippine division has his headquarters. In one of the beautiful parks within the fort is located the military arsenal, with its big steam and electric workshops.

Some of the maps and plans of the fort are now in the British museum, in London, where they were carried after the British conquest of Manila. The fort, mostly in its present form, has stood for 200 years. There are all sorts of stories floating about concerning secret chambers in the walls and wings.

So far as the secret chambers are concerned, there is some truth in the rumors. The filling of the old moat closed many of the entrances to these chambers, probably forever. When the wall in Calle Aduana was removed, an inner chamber was found filled with human skeletons.

Natives have a wholesome terror of the old place, and absolutely no desire to see anything below the surface of the thick old walls. Americans who with electric lamps, have started explorations have given up, owing to the foul air, crumbling passages and other hindrances.

Only three flags have flown above Fort Santiago. For 328 years the Spanish ensign was unfurled to the tropic breeze, except for the brief time the British flag supplanted that of the rightful lords. The hoisting of the third flag is well known to all Americans.

THE PALACE

That Expensive Ride

Pleasing Majestic Comedy with a fresh idea in motion picture plots Also another good picture.

Buffalo Jones pictures WILL NOT BE SHOWN because they are not up to the Palace standard. Our patrons are entitled to the best and we are going to give it to them.

COLONIAL

5c VAUDEVILLE 5c
FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Miss Leoretta Buckery
COGN SHOUTER

5c Two Reels of Pictures and One Act 5c

PARRETT'S GROCERY

THE YELLOW FRONT

The Home of Quality for 24 years

WE SELL GAS MANTLES

The National High Pressure gas mantle made of wood fibre. Will last as long as three ordinary cotton gas mantles, besides giving a brighter light. We have them in both tall and inverted, price 15c to for 25c

We also sell high grade Toilet Paper the very best we can buy, 1000 sheets to the roll, 10c per roll, 3 rolls 25c

We sell Chicken Feed also Shelled Corn, Cracked Corn, Scratch Food, Chick Food, Chicken Chowder, Crushed Oyster Shells, Fleck's Poultry Food, Fleck's Lice Killer, Etc.

L. EGGLESTON & SON
Real Estate and Insurance
Dennis Bldg.
Main st. Bell Phone 319w

Dr. Flo Rankin Dunnington
Osteopathic Physician
116 W. Temple St., Washington C. D.
CITIZENS PHONE 4322

WOLFF'S INSOLE ARCH-SUPPORTERS
Flexible, Durable, Light Weight.
For flat feet, broken down insteps and weak ankles. Made of corkwood and leather—no metal. You'll like them. Satisfaction guaranteed. Write for illustrated price list for Supporters, Belts, Crutches, Braces, Elastic Stockings, Suspenders. 32 years success making appliances for deformities.
C. J. WOLFF 115 W. Seventh Ave., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Fresh Shipment Of
Ensign and Ansco Films
JUST RECEIVED
We have your size

Flash-Light Cartridges
A fresh supply just in.
Fresh Films and Supplies
Always Make the Best Pictures

DELBERT C. HAYS
PHOTO SUPPLIES

Real Chinaland Opium Den Raided

An opium den, which would have been a credit to Frisco's Chinaland, was raided in Chillicothe Wednesday and a colored man named Tom Lumpkins was taken in tow, also a colored woman giving the name of Belle Davis, who was under the influence of the drug.

The opium joint gave every evidence of being a regular hold up den, dozens of empty pocketbooks being found, together with a great many pipes used to smoke the drug. Lumpkins was covered with money, supposed to have been taken from his victims. Nippers and other tools for robbing victims of jewelry, were found, together with a supply of opium. Drugging the victims and robbing them is charged against Lumpkins.

"BABY MINE."

How would you like your husband to go away in a huff after a tiff, come back to you some months later after you had telegraphed him there was a little stranger in the house, and then to have the founding asylum play you a mean trick by not delivering the baby? That's what happened to Mrs. Zoie Hardy in Margaret Mayo's howling success, "Baby Mine," which William A. Brady Ltd., brings to the Empire tonight, and that is the situation which commences a series of rapid-fire complications that keeps an audience delivering a set of rapid-fire laughs for over two hours.

"Baby Mine" broke all records for large audiences at Daly's theater, New York, where it ran for one solid year.

Miner Slashed to Death.
Bellair, O., Feb. 15.—George Taylor, a coal miner, was found almost backed to pieces with about 50 knife thrusts. He boarded at a foreign boarding house and it was the proprietor who first gave the alarm. Taylor is supposed to have been infatuated with the proprietor's wife, Deputy Sheriff Dunfee and Osborne of St. Clairsville found a trail of blood leading from the house to the place where Taylor's body was found. The keeper was arrested and will be held for further investigation. Coroner Messerly will give his verdict to-day.

PURITY POTATO CHIPS
SOLD AT ALL GROCERIES

Empire Opera House

SOCIETY AND DRAMATIC EVENT OF SEASON
ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

Thursday, February 15

AS NEW YORK VIEWED IT.

"Scores genuine laughing hit."
World.
"Funniest play that New York has ever seen."—Telegram.
"The longer you listen, the longer you laugh."—Alan Dale, American Sun.
"A remarkable success."—Evening
Sun.
"One of the funniest."—Herald.
"A genuine popular success."
Sun.
"Had people rolling with laughter
for hours."—Times.

Wm. A. Brady, Ltd., Announces His Greatest Success.

BABY MINE.

Is The Funniest Play Ever Written.

BY MARGARET MAYO, author of "Polly of The Circus," and "The Country Boy."

Just Out of New York After a Solid Year's Run at Daly's Theatre.

Now Playing Its 300th Performance in London. In Preparation at Brln. Paris. Vienna

It's One Big, Clean, Healthy Laugh.

AS CHICAGO SAW IT.

"More reasons for laughter than in any other play of the age."—Daily News.
"The situations are most judicious."—Tribune.
"Recommended to the tired business man."—Inter-Ocean.
"More laughter where 'Baby Mine' plays than in any other theater in America."—Journal.

PRICES:

25c, 50c, 75c, $1, $1.50

Seat Sale opens at Baldwin's Drug Store 9 a. m., Wednesday

Cherry Hill Schoolhouse Not Available This Term

DELAY CAUSES INCONVENIENCE

Contract Called for Completion of Structure Last November.
Will Be Finished Late in April and Will Probably Not Be Used Until Next Fall—Contractor Is Seriously Ill.

Cherry Hill School house will probably not be open for school purposes until school opens up next fall, notwithstanding that the contract for the building called for completion by November last year.

It is now estimated that the building will not be finished until late in April, and the Board of Education will probably not change teachers and pupils who go into the new building, from their present locations, believing that to do so for the short time during the remainder of the present school term would not be best for the pupils.

The work, which has progressed so slowly, has been done thoroughly, and the building is probably the most substantial for the amount invested that can be found in Ohio today.

In addition to being delayed several weeks during the past summer and fall on account of material not arriving on time, it is hinted that there was some little friction between the architects and Contractor George Fenzel, who is also erecting a school building at West Jefferson, where the real difficulty is said to have occurred. Mr. Fenzel is now critically ill with little hope of recovery.

A great deal of the interior finishing remains to be done, including the laying of floors. The structure, standing as it does upon the hill above Oakland avenue, is a handsome one.

The delay in completing the building has caused the Board of Education extra work and has been the means of considerable inconvenience to teachers and pupils.

If the building is not used for school purposes until next fall, the new High School building will then be completed and the changing about will start in with the beginning of the school term, so that no interruption will occur.

With the reappearance of warmer weather, work on the new High school building is progressing nicely, and during the winter enough work has been done to insure speedy headway when the weather permits.

PILES—FREE TREATISE

Thousands of severe long standing cases of piles have been cured by my new method after salves, ointments, suppositories and surgery have failed.
It is a home treatment. My illustrated booklet "The Sense and Nonsense of Pile Cures" mailed free upon request. Address: Dr. Floyd G.
Wendle, Dept. O, Danville, Ill.

Road Disappearing In Big Sink Hole

The county commissioners of Logan county are puzzled over a mammoth sink hole near West Liberty, where 150 feet of highway is slowly sinking until it has become impassable, and some parts of it have disappeared in an underground cavern.

Logan county has a number of these peculiar sink holes, owing to the yielding nature of the earth which for the most part, is water soaked and contains much quicksand.

The sink hole above mentioned is near the home of R. A. Richardson, a former resident of Fayette county.

Forced Wife From Buggy And Made Her Walk Home

Francis Dallas, formerly of this county, and who until recently has been a resident of the Good Hope vicinity, has filed suit for alimony in the Common Pleas court of Ross county against her husband, William S. Dallas.

The couple were married in this city in August, 1906, and she says that on account of his extreme cruelty toward her she left him in December, 1911.

One of the allegations made by Mrs. Dallas is that while they were driving home to Good Hope on the DEATH OF MRS. MARY J. ANTHONI.

Mrs. Mary J. Anthoni passed quietly into the great beyond in the early dawn of Thursday morning at the home of her son, Mr. H. C. Anthoni, on North street.

A woman having remarkably good health all her life, Mrs. Anthoni began to fail last fall and for the past three weeks has been confined to her bed.

About 17 years ago Mrs. Anthoni came from her home in Delaware to make her home with her son here and the closing years of her life were happily spent in the devoted care of the son and his wife. She also leaves two sons in Chicago, Albert and Will,
the former reaching here Thursday.

Funeral services will be held at the residence on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the remains will be taken on the 5:02 o'clock B. & O. train Saturday morning to Delaware for burial.

ALMOST LOST HIS LIFE

S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia, but to continue with the Discovery. I did so and two bottles completely cured me."
Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Blackmer & Tanquary.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

MANILA'S OLD FORT

SANTIAGO WAS BUILT MORE THAN 300 YEARS AGO.

Key of City's Vast System of Defense Constructed by the Spaniards Is Now Used as Military Headquarters.

A score of miles down the bay from Manila, right at the very front door of the archipelago, lies hidden on Corregidor Island a veritable hornet's nest of masked batteries. According to the Overland Monthly, these batteries make the Port Arthur implemements of yesterday seem like mere old-fashioned toys, and paper ones at that.

The Gruson turrets, made of concrete and steel and sunk on rock foundations, natural or artificial, in the deep, resembling huge gray turtles sticking up out of the water with protruding gun barrels for necks, occupy El Fraile and other small islets in the vicinity, while old hump-backed Corregidor is covered from crest to shore line with guns, a honeycomb of underground cement tunnels, pits and runways, wireless equipment, electrical apparatus, searchlights and other contrivances to aid in repelling an enemy.

When it comes to age and romantic history, however, old Fort Santiago is far ahead of Corregidor. Manila's walled city, a town in itself, consisting of several city blocks with paved streets, business houses and large dwellings is surrounded by a stone wall about thirty feet high and from thirty to forty feet thick.

The walls once were skirted on the outside by a deep moat, filled with water having drawbridges at the various gates. Most if not all of the moat has now been filled in, but no doubt the walls will stand for years if for no other reason than for their historical interest.

Of this vast yet crude system of defense Fort Santiago stands as the key. What the Tower of London is to England, what the Vatican is to Rome, what the Bunker Hill monument is to the United States, Fort Santiago is to the Philippine Islands.

The Spanish invaders made Manila their headquarters in 1571 and began to fortify it about twenty years later.
The first stone construction was the circular wall, which is still standing.
Since the American occupation of the fort its armament has been taken away and the buildings within the parks have been converted into barracks and storerooms.

Commodious office buildings have been erected on top of the walls along and overlooking the Pasig, and here the commanding general of the Phi-lipine division has his headquarters.
In one of the beautiful parks within the fort is located the military arsenal, with its big steam and electric workshops.

Some of the maps and plans of the fort are now in the British museum, in London, where they were carried after the British conquest of Manila.
The fort, mostly in its present form, has stood for 200 years. There are all sorts of stories floating about concerning secret chambers in the walls and wings.

So far as the secret chambers are concerned, there is some truth in the rumors. The filling of the old moat closed many of the entrances to these chambers, probably forever. When the wall in Calle Aduana was removed, an inner chamber was found filled with human skeletons.

Natives have a wholesome terror of the old place, and absolutely no desire to see anything below the surface of the thick old walls. Americans who with electric lamps, have started explorations have given up, owing to the foul air, crumbling passages and other hindrances.

Only three flags have flown above
Fort Santiago. For 325 years the Spanish ensign was unfurled to the tropic breeze, except for the brief time the British flag supplanted that of the rightful lords. The hoisting of the third flag is well known to all Americans.

PURITY POTATO CHIPS
SOLD AT ALL GROCERIES

THE PALACE

That Expensive Ride

Pleasing Majestic Comedy with a fresh idea in motion picture plots
Also another good picture.

Buffalo Jones pictures WILL NOT BE SHOWN because they are not up to the Palace standard. Our patrons are entitled to the best and we are going to give it to them.

COLONIAL

5c VAUDEVILLE 5c
FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Miss Leoretta Buckery
COON SHOUTER

5c Two Reels of Pictures and One Act 5c

PARRETT'S GROCERY

THE YELLOW FRONT

The Home of Quality for 24 years

WE SELL GAS MANTLES

The National High Pressure gas mantle made of wood fibre. Will last as long as three ordinary cotton gas mantles, besides giving a brighter light. We have them in both tall and inverted, price 15c to for 25c

We also sell high grade Toilet Paper—the very best we can buy, 1000 sheets to the roll, 10c per roll, 3 rolls 25c

We sell Chicken Feed also Shelled
Corn, Cracked Corn, Scratch Food, Chick
Food, Chicken Chowder, Crushed Oyster Shells, Fleck's Poultry Food, Fleck's Lice Killer, Etc.

L. EGGLESTON & SON

Real Estate and Insurance

Donnie Edg.

Main st.

Bell Phone 319w

Dr. Flo Rankin Cunningham

Osteopathic Physician

116 W. Temple St., Washington D. C.

OFFICE HOURS 10:30

WOLFF'S INSOLE ARCH-SUPPORTERS
Visible, Durable, Light Weight.
For flat feet, broken down insteps and weak ankles. Made of cork wood and leather—no metal. You'll like them. Satisfaction guaranteed. Write for illustrated price list for Supporters, Belts, Trusses, Braces, Elastic Stockings, Suspenders. 32 years success making appliances for deformities.
C. J. WOLFF 115 W. Seventh Ave., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Fresh Shipment Of
Ensign and Ansco Films
JUST RECEIVED
We have your size

Flash-Light Cartridges
A fresh supply just in.
Fresh Films and Supplies
Always Make the Best Pictures

DELBERT C. HAYS
PHOTO SUPPLIES

Real Chinaland Opium Den Raided

An opium den, which would have been a credit to "Frisco's Chinaland," was raided in Chillicothe Wednesday and a colored man named Tom Lumpkins was taken in tow, also a colored woman giving the name of Belle Davis, who was under the influence of the drug.

The opium joint gave every evidence of being a regular hold up den, dozens of empty pocketbooks being found together with a great many pipes used to smoke the drug.
Lumpkins was covered with money, supposed to have been taken from his victims. Nippers and other tools for robbing victims of jewelry, were found, together with a supply of opium. Drugging the victims and robbing them is charged against Lumpkins.

"BABY MINE."

How would you like your husband to go away in a huff after a tiff, come back to you some months later after you had telegraphed him there was a little stranger in the house, and then to have the founding asylum play you a mean trick by not delivering the baby? That's what happened to Mrs. Zoie Hardy in Margaret Mayo's howling success, "Baby Mine," which William A. Brady Ltd., brings to the Empire tonight, and that is the situation which commences a series of rapid-fire complications that keeps an audience delivering a set of rapid-fire laughs for over two hours.

"Baby Mine" broke all records for large audiences at Daly's theater,
New York, where it ran for one solid year.

Miner Slashed to Death.

Chillicothe, O., Feb. 15.—George Taylor, a coal miner, was found almost backed to pieces with about 50 knife thrusters. He boarded a for a foreign boarding house and it was the proprietary who first gave the alarm.
Taylor is supposed to have been infatuated with the proprietor's wife.
Deputy Sheriff Dunfee and Osborne of St. Clairville found a trail of blood leading from the house to the place where Taylor's body was found.
The keeper was arrested and will be held for further investigation. Coroner Moser will give his verdict today.

The Dinner club enjoyed a beautiful valentine dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Van Winkle Wednesday night.

Scarlet candles and greenery furnished artistic decoration. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peddicord, Winkie, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Murray, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Murray, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Marchant, Mr. and Mrs. James Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haynes.

A quiet wedding which will surprise and interest a large number in both this city and the New Holland neighborhood, was the marriage of Mr. Henry Dearth, a well-to-do and prominent farmer of near New Holland, and Miss Myrtle Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Poole, of this city.

Rev. Vandegriff, of New Holland performed the ceremony at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mr. F. E. Sims, on S. Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dearth will reside at Mr. Dearth's present home, near New Holland, until the first of March when they remove to a farm which he purchased last year one mile north of Bloomingburg.

Mr. James Chaffin, of New Holland, was the only guest at the wedding outside of the family.

The bride has a large circle of relatives and friends in this city and the marriage is attended with many good wishes.

Miss Elizabeth McDonald entertained twelve of her little friends with a delightful valentine party Wednesday afternoon.

Merry guessing contests were enjoyed after which a pretty luncheon, suggestive of the day, was served.

"The Stuffed Olives and Sour Pickles" were charmingly entertained by Miss Mary Alice Culhan with a valentine party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Culhan, Wednesday evening.

The home was hospitably enfeited and the evening a merry one. Miss Jean Fitzgerald won a box of candy in a clever guessing contest. Afterwards there was music and a delicious luncheon.

Assisting the young hostess were Mrs. Culhan, Miss Prudence Culhan and Miss Emily Tanney. John Hogan of Columbus, was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. J. R. Stone gave a very pretty valentine party Wednesday afternoon for her young sister, Francis.

Fifteen little girls had a happy time, with tempting refreshments served.

Mary Mitchel and Audrey Gibson won the prizes in valentine contests.

Mrs. Wm. Bishop and Ralph Gage assisted.

Miss Edna Edwards, of this city, and Mr. Staunton Young, of Springfield, were quietly married in Cincinnati Thursday afternoon, going from there to the home of the bridegroom in Springfield.

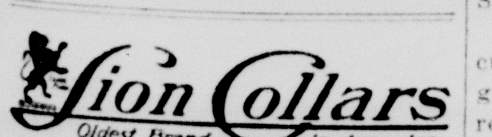

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Isaac Solars, of this city, with whom she made her home, and has a host of friends here and in the Bloomingburg neighborhood, where she formerly resided.

SHIMP—PAYNE.

Thomas Payne, a resident of this county and Miss Clara Shimp, of Circleville, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage in Circleville Wednesday of this week.

Rev. Brokaw officiated.

Mr. R. C. Kyle went to Xenia Thursday to attend a corn show.

We Want Your Trade

Solely Upon the Merits Of Our Work
Make An Appointment TODAY

Herbert C. Campbell
PHOTOGRAPHER
Pony Block. Over Fayette County Bank

Mrs. Ellen Miller Gooley and niece, Miss Ruth Gooley, are visitors here for the day.

Mrs. Edward Greenwald, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mrs. Madge Miller McCrea.

Rev. E. W. Price, of Bowersville, is the guest of his son, Mr. Herman Price and family.

Mrs. Frank Bohn, of Chillicothe, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burke.

Miss Dora Hays is spending a few days the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Wert Baughn, northwest of town.

Mrs. Ellis Daugherty went to Dayton Thursday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Robbins are spending the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fultz in Leesburg.

Chas. Johnson went to Cincinnati Thursday morning to purchase a private electric light plant for manufacturing electricity.

Miss Margaret Tilton has returned from a month's stay at her home in New Vienna, to resume her former position in the Stutson store.

Mr. Frank Johnson went to Columbus this morning to be the guest of Constitutional Delegate Humphrey Jones at the Constitutional convention.

Miss Del Lanum went to Columbus Thursday to visit her brother, Harry Lanum and family to attend a series of card parties given by Mrs. Lanum.

Men's Supper Notice

The Chairmen of all the tables for the Men's Supper at Grace M. E. Church, together with their assistants; Chairmen of Soliciting Committees and their assistants meet at Memorial Hall FRIDAY evening, at 7 o'clock, sharp.

IMPORTANT. SEC'Y.

JOINT MEETING.

The Loyal Sons and Loyal Daughters classes of the Christian church, of Washington C. H. O., held a joint meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Robinett. After separate business sessions the two classes were united to listen to the following program that had been prepared for the occasion.

After a very elaborate introduction and information concerning travels, etc., by Mr. Lester M. Flax, Melwood Hostetler displayed a well-developed talent in reciting "Lasca". Mr. Flax next introduced Miss Chloe Brock, describing her many good qualities and an earnest desire to love and to be loved. Miss Brock held her listeners spell-bound as she recited a beautiful recitation.

The classes next listened to a male quartet, followed with a splendid reading by Roy Robinett.

Mr. Flax next introduced Dr. Chas. E. Stewart giving a detailed account of his school days, his study and practice of law, etc., up to his present profession. He responded with "A Smack in School". Upon the request of several persons present (a visitor) Mrs. Chas. Kibler electrified his hearers with his complete mastery of elocution, in reciting "A Puzzled Dutchman." Mr. Kibler responded to an encore with "Little Yawcup Strauss."

By request Miss Chloe Brock occupied the floor for the second time, giving those present an excellent reading.

The program was ended with a song by four girls.

A delicious lunch, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, coffee and cake was served to 33 ladies and 28 gentlemen. After a short social period, the two classes departed, declaring Mr. and Mrs. Robinett delightful hosts.

CONTRIBUTED.

Hettesheimer is agent for the "Howard watch."

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Beware the Signature of Charles H. Hitt

LODGE NEWS.

FAYETTE CHAPTER

NO. 103, R. A. M.

There will be a special convocation Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at 7:00 p. m., for the purpose of conferring the Past Master and Most Excellent degrees upon a large class. Visitors welcome. By order of

E. S. PEELE, H. P.
A. E. HENKLE, Secy.
38-39-40

W. C. T. U.

The Union will meet February 16, Friday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Davies, at 2 o'clock.

Will observe Francis I. Willard's memorial birthday with the following program:

Opening exercises.
Music.
Scripture.
Prayer.
Transaction of business.
Report from committees for mid-year meeting.
Biographical sketch of Miss Willard.
Wise words and pen pictures read by members.

Paper—"Francis Willard as I Knew Her", Elizabeth P. Garden.

K. O. T. M.

Washington Tent No. 390, Knights of the Maccabees of the World will meet Thursday evening, February 15 at the Stinson conservatory hall. All members are earnestly requested to be present and assist in making arrangements for the entertainment to be given in the near future by the L. O. T. M. and K. O. T. M.

W. C. T. U.

W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Sharp-Davies tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Memorial service. All the women of the W. C. T. U. are urged to attend the meeting.

PRES.

ATTENTION R. B. HAYES POST.

Regular meeting R. B. Hayes Post No. 92, G. A. R., Friday evening, February 16, 1912 at 7:30 o'clock p. m. Comrades this is an important meeting, and a goodly attendance is urgently requested. By order of

B. H. MILLIKAN, P. C.
E. C. HAMILTON, Adj.

MEMOIR.

Nancy J., daughter of Gilley and Angelina Truitt, was born May 16, 1836. She was one of a family of 9 children, only one of whom, a brother, Edward E., of South Salem survives her. She was reared in a Christian home and early learned to love her Maker.

In 1854 she was united in marriage to Lewis L. Rose. To this union were born six children. In 1868 the husband passed beyond leaving her a widow with three children. These she maintained and reared with Christian fortitude. During all the struggles and privations of her widowhood, she found her Savior, whom she loved, an ever present help, and came forth from her trials as gold. Only one of these children, Mrs. Wm. A. Sanders, of this city, is left to mourn her loss.

In 1883, she was united to Chas. W. Barnes. No children were born to them, but the three children of his former marriage were cared for as her own. And her death is to them the loss of a mother.

Throughout her entire life, the Christ who was enthroned in her heart, prompted and guided her every action. To fulfill the commands of her Heavenly Father was her purpose in life.

She was ever a good Samaritan and a blessing to her neighbors. She was a wife, fulfilling every duty lovingly and well.

Her great work and her God given talent was that of home-maker and mother. When she was at an advanced age, her youngest child, Mrs. Myrtle Dailey, died, leaving to her care her two little children, Nina and Grace Dailey. These two were welcomed in her heart and most tenderly and carefully reared in the same faith that had been her support through so many troubles and afflictions. She was not only a mother to her own children, but to all motherless children who came within her care.

The last years of her life were beautiful ones. Her steadfast faith and loving hands making her afflictions easier to bear. Most touching was the tender devotion with which she was cared for by the now be-reaved husband.

In the early hours of Sunday morning, February 4, 1912, she passed to her great reward and eternal rest.

"And her children shall rise up and called her blessed."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank every one for the kindness shown us and the beautiful flowers sent us in memory of our wife and mother.

Charles W. Barnes and family.

Want ads. are profitable.

Madam, What Size Suit Do You Wear

Here's a complete list of our entire stock. It will tell you the size, the color, the fabric and former price, and

YOU MAY TAKE YOUR PICK NOW FOR

$10.00

Values from $20 to $35

Green Broadcloth, size 14, former price $20

Tan Novelty, broadcloth trimmed, size 16, former price $25.00.

Coronation Corduroy, satin trimmed, size 16, former price $25.00.

Brown Diagonal Unfinished Worsted.
Silk trimmed, size 24, former price $25.00.

Gray Novelty
Plain tailored, size 16, former price $22.50.

Black Broadcloth
Plain tailored, size 18, formerly $27.50.

Shadow Stripe Coronation
Broadcloth, size 18, formerly $27.50

Navy Blue Basket Weave
Plain tailored, size 38, marked $25

Tan Novelty
Plain tailored, size 38, was $22.50

Blue Unfinished Worsted
Size 41 stout; formerly $25.

Gray Broadcloth
Plain tailored, size 40; former price $27.50.

Navy Blue Serge
Plain, 43 stout, former price $25

Blue Diagonal Worsted
(Printzess make size 42 regular, formerly $27.50.

Blue Diagonal
Size 43 stout, was $27.50.

Blue Unfinished Worsted
(Printzess make) size 41 stout, former price $35.00.

Brown-Tan Stripe Novelty
Size 36, was $25.00.

Brown Broadcloth
Size 36, was $25.00.

Coronation Diagonal
Size 18, was $35.00

Red Silk Velvet
Satin lined, size 36, former price $30.00.

King's Blue Broadcloth
Plain tailored, size 36, former price $20.00.

Novelty Mixture
Plain tailored, size 16, was $20.00

Shadow Stripe Coronation
Novelty—size 36, former price $35

Blue Basket Weave
Perfectly plain, size 38, heretofore $27.50.

Blue Unfinished Worsted
Satin trimmed, size 40, was $27.50

Black Broadcloth
Pan velvet trimmed, size 40, was $25.00.

Black Serge
Plain, size 41 stout, formerly $22.50

Blue Unfinished Worsted
Size 39 stout, was $25.00.

Gray Unfinished Worsted
Size 43 stout, was $27.50.

London Smoke Diagonal
Worsted—size 45 stout, was $27.50

Tan Whipcord
Plain tailored, size 40, was $30.00

Shadow Stripe
Brown and Black Novelty, size 38, was $35.00.

King's Blue Broadcloth
Satin trimming, size 18, was $35

ALTERATIONS EXTRA

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY

IN SOCIETY

The Dinner club enjoyed a beautiful valentine dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Van Winkle Wednesday night.

Scarlet candles and greenery furnished artistic decoration. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Van Winkle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peddicord, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Murray, Hon. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Marchant, Mr. and Mrs. James Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haynes.

A quiet wedding which will surprise and interest a large number in both this city and the New Holland neighborhood, was the marriage of Mr. Henry Dearth, a well-to-do and prominent farmer of near New Holland, and Miss Myrtle Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Poole, of this city.

Rev. Vandegriff, of New Holland performed the ceremony at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mr. F. E. Sims, on S. Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Dearth will reside at Mr. Dearth's present home, near New Holland, until the first of March when they remove to a farm which he purchased last year one mile north of Bloomingburg.

Mr. James Chaffin, of New Holland, was the only guest at the wedding outside of the family.

The bride has a large circle of relatives and friends in this city and the marriage is attended with many good wishes.

Miss Elizabeth McDonald entertained twelve of her little friends with a delightful valentine party Wednesday afternoon.

Merry guessing contests were enjoyed after which a pretty luncheon, suggestive of the day, was served.

"The Stuffed Olives and Sour Pickles" were charmingly entertained by Miss Mary Alice Culhan with a valentine party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Culhan, Wednesday evening.

The home was hospitably enfeited and the evening a merry one. Miss Jean Fitzgerald won a box of candy in a clever guessing contest. Afterwards there was music and a delicious luncheon.

Assisting the young hostess were Mrs. Culhan, Miss Prudence Culhan and Miss Emily Tanney. John Hogan of Columbus, was an out-of-town guest.

Mrs. J. R. Stone gave a very pretty valentine party Wednesday afternoon for her young sister, Francis.

Fifteen little girls had a happy time with tempting refreshments served.

Mary Mitchel and Audrey Gibson won the prizes in valentine contests.

Mrs. Wm. Bishop and Ralph Gage assisted.

Miss Edna Edwards, of this city, and Mr. Staunton Young, of Springfield, were quietly married in Cincinnati Thursday afternoon, going from there to the home of the bridegroom in Springfield.

The bride is a niece of Mrs. Isaac Sollars, of this city, with whom she made her home, and has a host of friends here and in the Bloomingburg neighborhood, where she formerly resided.

SHIMP-PAYNE.

Thomas Payne, a resident of this county and Miss Clara Shimp, of Circleville, were united in marriage at the M. E. parsonage in Circleville Wednesday of this week.

Rev. Brokaw officiated.

Mr. R. C. Kyle went to Xenia Thursday to attend a corn show.

Lion Collars
Oldest Brand in America

We Want Your Trade

Solely Upon the Merits
Of Our Work

Make An Appointment

TODAY

Herbert C. Campbell

PHOTOGRAPHER

Over Popple County Bank

Mrs. Ellen Miller Gooley and niece, Miss Ruth Gooley, are visitors here for the day.

Mrs. Edward Greenwald, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mrs. Madge Miller McCrea.

Rev. E. W. Price, of Bowersville, is the guest of his son, Mr. Herman Price and family.

Mrs. Frank Bohn, of Chillicothe, spent Wednesday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burke.

Miss Dora Hays is spending a few days the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Wert Baughn, northwest of town.

Mrs. Ellis Daugherty went to Dayton Thursday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Robbins are spending the remainder of the week with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fultz in Leesburg.

Chas. Johnson went to Cincinnati Thursday morning to purchase a private electric light plant for manufacturing electricity.

Miss Margaret Tilton has returned from a month's stay at her home in New Vienna, to resume her former position in the Stinson store.

Mr. Frank Johnson went to Columbus this morning to be the guest of Constitutional Delegate Humphrey Jones at the Constitutional convention.

Miss Del Lanum went to Columbus Thursday to visit her brother, Harry Lanum and family to attend a series of card parties given by Mrs. Lanum.

Men's Supper Notice

The Chairmen of all the tables for the Men's Supper at Grace M. E. Church, together with their assistants; Chairmen of Soliciting Committees and their assistants meet at Memorial Hall FRIDAY evening, at 7 o'clock, sharp.

IMPORTANT. SEC'Y.

JOINT MEETING.

The Loyal Sons and Loyal Daughters classes of the Christian church, of Washington C. H., O., held a joint meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Robinson. After separate business sessions the two classes were united to listen to the following program that had been prepared for the occasion.

After a very elaborate introduction and information concerning travels, etc., by Mr. Lester M. Flax, Melwood Hostetler displayed a well developed talent in reciting "Lascia". Mr. Flax next introduced Miss Chloe Brock, describing her many good qualities and an earnest desire to love and to be loved. Miss Brock held her listeners spell-bound as she recited a beautiful recitation.

The classes next listened to a male quartet, followed with a splendid reading by Roy Robinson.

Mr. Flax next introduced Dr. Chas. E. Stewart giving a detailed account of his school days, his study and practice of law, etc., up to his present profession. He responded with "A Smack in School". Upon the request of several persons present (a visitor) Mrs. Chas. Kibler electrified his hearers with his complete mastery of elocution, in reciting "A Puzzled Dutchman." Mr. Kibler responded to an encore with "Little Yawcup Strauss."

By request Miss Chloe Brock occupied the floor for the second time, giving those present an excellent reading.

The program was ended with a song by four girls.

A delicious lunch, consisting of sandwiches, pickles, coffee and cake was served to 33 ladies and 28 gentlemen. After a short social period, the two classes departed, declaring Mr. and Mrs. Robinson delightful hosts.

CONTRIBUTED.

Hetteheimer is agent for the "Howard watch."

GASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Be sure the signature of Dr. J. C. Watson

LEDGE NEWS.

PAYETTE CHAPTER

NO. 103, R. A. M.

There will be a special convocation Thursday evening, Feb. 15, at 7:00 p. m., for the purpose of conferring the Past Master and Most Excellent degrees upon a large class. Visitors welcome. By order of

E. S. PEELLE, H. P.

A. E. HENKLE, Secy.
38-39-40

W. C. T. U.

The Union will meet February 16, Friday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. W. W. Davies, at 2 o'clock.

Will observe Francis I. Willard's memorial birthday with the following program:

Opening exercises.
Music.
Scripture.
Prayer.
Transaction of business.
Report from committees for mid-year meeting.
Biographical sketch of Miss Willard.
Wise words and pen pictures read by members.
Paper—"Francis Willard as I Knew Her", Elizabeth P. Garden.

K. O. T. M.

Washington Tent No. 390, Knights of the Maccabees of the World will meet Thursday evening, February 15 at the Stinson conservatory hall. All members are earnestly requested to be present and assist in making arrangements for the entertainment to be given in the near future by the L. O. T. M. and K. O. T. M.

W. C. T. U.

W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Sharp-Davies tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Memorial service. All the women of the W. C. T. U. are urged to attend the meeting.

PRES.

ATTENTION R. B. HAYES POST.

Regular meeting R. B. Hayes Post No. 92, G. A. R., Friday evening, February 16, 1912 at 7:30 o'clock p. m. Comrades this is an important meeting, and a goodly attendance is urgently requested. By order of

R. B. MILLIKAN, P. C.

E. C. HAMILTON, Adj.

MEMOIR

Nancy J., daughter of Gilley and Angeline Truitt, was born May 16, 1836. She was one of a family of 9 children, only one of whom, a brother, Edward E., of South Salem survives her. She was reared in a Christian home and early learned to love her Maker.

In 1854 she was united in marriage to Lewis L. Rose. To this union were born six children. In 1868 the husband passed beyond leaving her a widow with three children. These she maintained and reared with Christian fortitude. During all the struggles and privations of her widowhood, she found her Savior, whom she loved, an ever present help, and came forth from her trials as gold. Only one of these children, Mrs. Wm. A. Sanders, of this city, is left to mourn her loss.

In 1882, she was united to Chas. W. Barnes. No children were born to them, but the three children of his former marriage were cared for as her own. And her death is to them the loss of a mother.

Throughout her entire life, the Christ who was enthroned in her heart, prompted and guided her every action. To fulfill the commands of her Heavenly Father was her purpose in life.

She was ever a good Samaritan and a blessing to her neighbors. She was a wife, fulfilling every duty lovingly and well.

Her great work and her God given talent was that of home-maker and mother. When she was at an advanced age, her youngest child, Mrs. Myrtle Bailey, died, leaving to her care her two little children, Nina and Grace Bailey. These two were welcomed in her heart and most tenderly and carefully reared in the same faith that had been her support through so many troubles and afflictions. She was not only a mother to her own children, but to all motherless children who came within her care.

The last years of her life were beautiful ones. Her steadfast faith and loving hands making her afflictions easier to bear. Most touching was the tender devotion with which she was cared for by the now bereaved husband.

In the early hours of Sunday morning, February 4, 1912, she passed to her great reward and eternal rest.

"And her children shall rise up and called her blessed."

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank every one for the kindness shown us and the beautiful flowers sent us in memory of our wife and mother.

Charles W. Barnes and family.

Want ads. are profitable.

Jessie W. Smith

Madam, What Size Suit Do You Wear

Here's a complete list of our entire stock. It will tell you the size, the color, the fabric and former price, and

YOU MAY TAKE YOUR PICK NOW FOR

$10.00

Values from $20 to $35

Green Broadcloth, size 14, former price $20

Tan Novelty, broadcloth trimmed, size 16, former price $25.00.

Coronation Corduroy, satin trimmed, size 16, former price $25.00.

Brown Diagonal Unfinished Worsted.

Silk trimmed, size 24, former price $25.00.

Gray Novelty

Plain tailored, size 16, former price $22.50.

Black Broadcloth

Plain tailored, size 18, formerly $27.50.

Shadow Stripe Coronation Broadcloth, size 18, formerly $27.50

Navy Blue Basket Weave Plain tailored, size 38, marked $25

Tan Novelty

Plain tailored, size 38, was $22.50

Blue Unfinished Worsted

Size 41 stout; formerly $25

Gray Broadcloth

Plain tailored, size 40; former price $27.50.

Navy Blue Serge

Plain, 43 stout, former price $25

Blue Diagonal Worsted

(Printess make size 42 regular, formerly $27.50.

Blue Diagonal

Size 43 stout, was $27.50.

Blue Unfinished Worsted

(Printess make) size 41 stout, former price $35.00.

Brown-Tan Stripe Novelty

Size 36, was $25.00.

Brown Broadcloth

Size 36, was $25.00.

Coronation Diagonal

Size 18, was $35.00

ALTERATIONS EXTRA

Red Silk Velvet

Satin lined, size 36, former price $30.00.

King's Blue Broadcloth

Plain tailored, size 36, former price $20.00.

Novelty Mixture

Plain tailored, size 16, was $20.00

Shadow Stripe Coronation

Novelty—size 36, former price $35

Blue Basket Weave

Perfectly plain, size 38, heretofore $27.50.

Blue Unfinished Worsted

Satin trimmed, size 40, was $27.50

Black Broadcloth

Pan velvet trimmed, size 40, was $25.00.

Black Serge

Plain, size 41 stout, formerly $22.50

Blue Unfinished Worsted

Size 39 stout, was $25.00.

Gray Unfinished Worsted

Size 43 stout, was $27.50.

London Smoke Diagonal

Worsted—size 45 stout, was $27.50

Tan Whipcord

Plain tailored, size 40, was $30.00

Shadow Stripe

Brown and Black Novelty, size 38, was $35.00.

King's Blue Broadcloth

Satin trimming, size 18, was $35

SEE WINDOW DISPLAY

Jessie W. Smith

MODERN HERODS

The last years of the first century before the Christian era saw Herod the Great upon the throne of Judea. Following the policy of the Herodian family his sole passion had been to found a great independent kingdom "in which the power of Judaism should subserve the consolidation of a state." Herod, bold and reckless, a tyrant of the worst type, in matters of diplomacy proved himself to be a genius able to swing all forces and factions into line with his policies. The fate of every man who lives for his own selfish interests, was his fate. His hands, wet with the blood of his best-loved wife, his sons, his benefactor, and the flower of his nation; his frame wasted by a loathsome and painful disease, he sat alone in his old age, his subjects waiting in veiled rebellion for his death.

While in this condition a new danger threatening the crown that had cost him so much. Word reached the palace that the long expected king of the Jews had been born. All Judea was excited for soon the expectation of a universal kingdom might be realized. Herod made a futile attempt to find the young king, and enraged to the point of madness resolved upon a course which would leave no room for his escape. The result was the slaughter of the innocents, and one of the darkest pages was added to the bloody history of the Herods.

When selfishness and greed reign supreme in a man's heart, humanity is forgotten. The Herods of Jesus' time are dead, but their modern representatives live. These are the men, who through an unjust and inhuman system of child-labor crush out the very life blood of our children.

Has the faith of the founders of this nation and government been realized? Did they succeed in establishing a nation in which great ideals would be forever dearer to the individual than his own private good?—When little children are sacrificed upon the altar of industry; when they are knocked down, run over and mangled by the car of commerce propelled by a greed that knows no law or pity; when they are thrust into a mill to work seven days a week with no opportunity for the development of their higher nature; when their muscle and brain which should be turned into citizenship is wasted and coined into money—and when all this is done by men who call themselves citizens of this nation, we answer no!

We have not perhaps, experienced the inferno of child torture which the records of the 19th century England picture so vividly. But it is the conviction of every student of our social life that we have today a child-labor problem so terrible in its magnitude that it should be a challenge to the very heart of the nation. The latest available statistics show that more than one million and a half children between the ages of ten and fifteen years are employed in gainful labor in this country, and in addition to this, personal investigation shows that thousands of children by being forced to swear that they are of a legal age, are employed in mills and sweat shops.

Let us walk through one of these mills where human units are employed and see their actual condition. As we enter we are greeted with the roar of great machines. The atmosphere is heavy and filled with dust and lint. On every side are little bodies bent and twisted, faces from which every vestige of color has departed, eyes red and heavy in which there is no sparkle of youth, hands that fly in a deft response to the claims of a machine. Under the searching eye of a foreman who knows no sympathy, these little martyrs of an industrial civilization toil on from day to day. Magnify this picture and you will see in a thousand such places a throng of suffering children equal to the population of one of our states.

The solution of this problem is a gigantic task. The only adequate way to solve it is through legislation, and in this we have made some progress.

The very existence of child labor is enough to brand the men who foster it as Modern Herods. But if this evidence is not deemed sufficient to prove the indictment, there is more at hand. Every piece of legislation that has been enacted against child labor has been enacted in the face of bitter opposition. The long struggle for better child-labor laws in New England was a struggle against these Modern Herods.

The burning wrong of child-labor carries with it certain dreadful retribution. To injure the child is to injure society. Whatever burden society lays or permits to be laid upon the shoulders of its children, it must ultimately bear upon its own. Society's supreme interest is the child, and this should be its supreme responsibility. Let us have our great mills and factories; our great railroads and commercial enterprises. Let us rejoice in our country's industrial and commercial achievements; but let us remember that it is not these that constitute a state, but men—intelligent, moral, efficient men!

It is a law of nature that the physically unfit, "regardless of consequences, continue to propagate their kind, and swell the proportion of those who will be from birth to death a heavy liability against society,"—and nature is not mocked. If America continues to maintain an industrial system which makes her children weaklings, America will reap a harvest of citizens that will bring about her own destruction.

The outlook, which depends upon a rising wave of public sentiment against this evil, is optimistic. When the American people know that perhaps more than a million children are dying of overwork, or being forever stunted in body, mind, and spirit; when they know that at least two hundred and fifty thousand degenerates, who have a burning hatred for society that has wronged them, are being poured into the body of our citizenship every year; when they know that child-labor brings man's wages down to the level of the child's, and makes the parent incapable of providing for the child; when they know that the employment of children before they reach an age of maturity, reverses the evolutionary process in human development, and undermines the moral foundation of the home;—then, they will begin to think. And when in the call of a new patriotism they hear the spirits of the noble men who founded this nation cry out: "Watchmen, what of the night?" from the hearts of a loyal and consecrated citizenship will come the answer: "The morning cometh"—the morning of an aroused and enraged public sentiment, which will face these Modern Herods who refuse to be reformed, and upon the black smoke-stacks of their mills and factories, which now defiantly flaunt their policies of lawlessness and cruelty against the sky, will write the obituary of the ancient Herods. "They are dead that sought the young child's life."

Poetry—Today

PROVISION
I can not tell what way the years will lead,
How hands may falter and how feet may bleed,
What deep contentment I shall have or need,
I can not tell.

I do not know why the fleet early years
Should shake me with surmise of future tears,
Why golden suns should set in gloom of fears,
I do not know.

I must not ask of winter winds that come
Across the ground where men sleep cold and dumb,
If I shall rest there well—of my last home,
I must not ask.

I shall not shrink, maybe I shall not dread,
When time has slowed my step and bowed my head,
To go away, to join the cloistered dead,
I shall not shrink.

I shall have hope, in spite of heavy shame,
Among God's pensioners to find my name,
In Him who for the strayed and lost ones came,
I shall have hope.

Charles L. O'Donnel in Ave Maria.

Weather Report

Washington, Feb. 15, Ohio—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature; moderate, variable winds.
Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature.
Indiana and Illinois—Mostly cloudy Thursday, becoming unsettled Friday; moderate temperature; moderate to brisk south winds.
Lower Michigan—Unsettled Thursday and Friday; moderate south winds.

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS.
Observations of Lake United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. Wednesday.
Columbus	33	Cloudy	Temp.
New York	28	Cloudy	Wind
Albany	18	Cloudy	Bar.
Atlantic City	39	Clear	Rel.
Boston	26	Clear	Hum.
Buffalo	26	Clear	Vis.
Chicago	32	Clear	Pres.
St. Louis	35	Cloudy	Temp.
New Orleans	52	Clear	Wind
Washington	39	Clear	Bar.
Philadelphia	32	Clear	Rel.

Weather Forecast.
Washington, Feb. 15, Indiana for tomorrow:
Ohio—Generally fair; not much change in temperature; moderate variable winds.

FINE DRAMA SEASON

ATTRACTIONS AT PLUNKVILLE
REVIEWED BY EDITOR.

Opening With Greater Barnstormers' Minstrels. The List Included Prof. Svengali, "East Lynne," "Jesse James" and Others.

"The dramatic season just ended," said the Winesap County Weekly Indicator, "was the most successful in the history of Plunkville, both from an artistic and a financial point of view."

"Early in October the season was ushered in with the Greater Barnstormers' Minstrels, with 15 performers in high top slickers and beautiful pink dusters, who played the most ravishing circus marches in the court-house yard. At the evening performance many of the latest melodies were rendered, including 'After the Ball,' 'Hot Time Tonight,' and 'Love Me and the World is Mine,' also many first-class jokes which have never been seen in the almanacs in this section. Our versatile and talented barber, band leader, baseball pitcher, orchestra conductor, and society favorite, Mr. Nick Duggins, secured an engagement with the minstrels to play second baritone and double up in the evening as 'Mr. Rastus Johnsing Brown.'

"In November a hypnotist and entertainer called 'Prof. X. Svengali,' occupied the boards at the opera house. Professor Svengali put Sam Tucker, the tinier, into a trance, and made him stand on his head in the corner and sing the 'Doxology.' After the performance Sam missed a five-dollar bill, but he allowed the fun was worth the money."

"In December we witnessed that soulful and lachrymose drama, 'East Lynne,' put on with great eclat and a whole lot of terrific success. Deacon Shucks, who hasn't cried since his wife ran away with the leader of the Bass Center choir, broke into profuse tears; and as the large concourse of Plunkvillians shuffled down the steps that lead from over S. Quigley's well-known commission, confectionery and farm implements emporium, there was not a dry eye on the stairs."

"About the middle of January the Plunkville Thespian and Terpsichorean Troupe rendered 'Kate, the Convict's daughter,' for the benefit of the South Sea head hunters. Miss Sadie Seebree, our talented milliner, who took the immortal role of Kate Kipper, made a pronounced hit and admits that, when it comes to finished trap-door and red-light situations, she has Mrs. Bernhardt backed off the boards. "The spring attractions included 'Ten Nights in a Barroom,' 'Jesse James,' a Shakespearean elocutionist who put everybody to sleep faster than Parson Buckner does, and a man without arms who played the bass viol with his toes."

"For the next season Manager Tobe Struggles will maintain the same high standard. He has already engaged 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' a fiddling quartet, a moving-picture show, a patent-medicine entertainment and an ossified man. During the summer many notable improvements will be made. A new tin cornice will be erected and the interior will be repainted in exquisite tints of flamingo red, paria green, Helen pink and chrome yellow, with many striking fresco decorations representing Venus, General Grant, Cleopatra, the Muses and Little Bo-peep. For next season the same competent staff will serve the public. Capt. Artemus Jefferson, the saddler, will continue to preside at the box office in return for the privilege of seeing the shows free. Nathan Thomas, the grocer, will light up and make fires and 'Plucky' Partington, the widow's son, will act as usher and carry the red banner with the golden letters in the parades for the same splendid privileges."

HAVE YOUR Gas Fitting

done by one thoroughly experienced in

NATURAL GAS and APPLIANCES

If you have trouble heating a coal stove or range investigate my 3-way burner.

Wyman's Repair Shop

S. North St. Bell Phone 150W
Jan 16 eod

SHOW KINDLY FEELING

ENGLISHMEN MAKE GIFT TO NEW ENGLAND TOWN.

Residents of Hingham Have Sent Old Stepping Stone to Massachusetts Namesake—Presented by the British Ambassador.

The old stepping stone which for 700 years stood in the public square at Hingham, England, was presented to Hingham, in this state, on behalf of the citizens of the English village by James Bryce, the English ambassador, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says. The stone is to be used as a corner stone for a bell tower to commemorate the landing at Hingham 275 years ago of a band of pilgrims from Hingham, England.

Mr. Bryce said that he was glad to be privileged to express on behalf of the people of old Hingham in England, whence came the settlers of the new Hingham here, the sentiments with which they had sent this stone from their village green to the descendants of their common Norfolk ancestors. Used as a mounting block for riders in the old country, it spoke of a time when riding on horseback was practically the only means of travel. It spoke not only of its origin, but of all the changes that had passed in 299 years and of the warm good will and affection which those of the old town felt for those of the new town after all that lapse of time.

Looking through the list of settlers who had crossed the sea to this Massachusetts town in 1633 to 1639, he found many of the best known New England names. Among them was one name especially interesting, because its bearer is believed to have been the ancestor of the greatest American of the nineteenth century, Abraham Lincoln. There was, however, something more and something deeper than a mere continuity of families. There was a continuity of institutions and traditions.

"The settlers," said Mr. Bryce, "who came from Norfolk to Massachusetts bay to escape the oppressive rule of King Charles I. and Archbishop Laud, brought with them ideas and beliefs and habits already deeply rooted among the Englishmen of East Anglia, one of the most truly Teutonic parts of England. The love of freedom in the state, the love of freedom in religion, the sense of duty to God and to conscience. It was for the sake of these things that they left their quiet Norfolk homes to face the stern winters of a new and almost unknown land, in whose forests lurked unknown dangers from wild beasts and wild men. And it was on the foundation of these principles that they built up their institutions here, set up their self-governing towns, legislated in the general court of their self-governing colony and in due time joined in framing the constitution of their state and of the federal republic."

"That the American people have grown to a greatness and prosperity undreamed of by the little band who came from Old Hingham nearly three centuries ago is due partly to the sturdy spirit of the old race, but largely also to the faith that has never faltered in the principles and belief which the early settlers of the Bay state brought with them, and in their loyalty to which they and their descendants have never faltered. The history of American freedom is a continuation of the history of English freedom and both countries have alike given an example to the world of what these principles can accomplish."

A "Typical" Russian Scene.

At our feet, moored to one of the supports of the bridge, was a flat barge, and on it a soldier, in a black tunic and high boots, was washing his linen himself, he must have climbed down the bridge to get there. There was not a sound in the air, except the splash made by the washing. And then from the plain, dusty, rutty road a whole line of flat carts creaked along, one in front of the other, five of the foremost being without drivers; all of these carts were full of sacks. Alongside of the sixth walked the owner, a bearded peasant, dressed in a brown leather and very dirty coat lined with sheepskin. And every now and then he influenced the march of the line of carts by shouting a word or two to the horses. Not long after this the line of carts crossed the bridge and turned into the town, and the creaking died away in the distance; the lazy stillness fell upon the place once more; and so great was that stillness that the whole landscape seemed like a colored slide of a magic lantern.—Maurice Baring's in "The Russian People."

Remembering the Absent.

"I guess I'm getting into this social game all right," said Mr. Cumrox. "Be polite and courteous, yet formal. That's the idea."

"What have you been doing?" inquired his wife, sharply. "You know them people who sent regrets because they couldn't come to our party?"

"Yes."

"Well, after I saw the party I sat down and sent 'em congratulations."

Proof.
"Our neighbor has a great deal of push about him, hasn't he?"
"I should say he has. He has enough to get through the crowd of women sitting on the cars to secure one of the best seats."

Borrow Money

From The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company. Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio, which loans money on homes and farms up to one-half their value at the lowest rates, and with the privilege of repayment in whole or in part at any time during term of loan. Assets, $5,200,000. Five per cent paid on time deposits. Write or call for booklets showing how money is received and loaned.

Teddy Confers With Friends

(Continued from Page One.)

enel and then went over the speech which Colonel Roosevelt will make before the Ohio constitution convention Feb. 21, and in which he will make a declaration of his progressive policies.

Principles Above Persons.

If the conference had as a part of its purpose the securing of the colonel's consent to a definite declaration of his candidacy, it evidently failed in that part. Mr. Van Valkenburg said later that it would be "principles and not persons" that would figure in the colonel's Columbus speech. He admitted that the greater part of the time during which he and the others were closeted with Mr. Roosevelt had been spent in going over and discussing the various points in the speech. He nodded "yes" when asked if the speech would be an enunciation of progressive principles. There would be no word in the speech, said Mr. Van Valkenburg, concerning the colonel's position as a possible candidate.

Colonel Collier of San Diego, Cal., who in addition to looking after the interests of the San Diego Panama exposition has been sounding the Roosevelt sentiment in 35 states, according to his own statement, was more specific than other visitors concerning the colonel's "platform." It would be satisfactory to the rank and file of the party, but might not please the "extreme radicals," Mr. Collier thought. He added that Mr. Roosevelt, if elected, would not be "as radical as LaFollette."

BLAMED A GOOD WORKER.

"I blamed my heart for severe distress in my left side for two years," writes W. Evans, Danville, Va., "but I know now it was indigestion, as Dr. King's New Life Pills completely cured me." Best for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, constipation, headache or debility. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

TALK BY WIRELESS.

San Francisco, Feb. 15.—A human voice was carried 1,900 miles out into the Pacific. The board of army officers which has been making tests of the wireless telephone has completed its report. When the transport Sherman was 1,900 miles out an official test was successful. Voices and phonograph music were exchanged. An official change was made at 1,200 miles.

THE OLD RELIABLE

STILL IN THE LEAD

The finest lot of oranges in town, prices the lowest. Jumbo bananas, 15c per dozen; crisp celery, a barrel of Springer's lettuce, 20c per pound. Crisp celery, fancy cranberries, sweet potatoes, fancy prunes and dried peaches. Lake herring, 2 for 5c. Fresh tub of fat mackerel, 3 for 25c. Finest smoked bacon, 12 1-2c per lb. Hand picked soup beans, 5 1-2c per pound.

See us.
J. W. DUFFEE & CO.
The Old Reliable Cash Grocers.
Both phones No. 77.

PLUMBING!

AGAIN IN BUSINESS.

For prompt service, satisfactory work, reasonable prices, call Citiz. Phone 1123

E. T. EVANS

MODERN HERODS

The last years of the first century before the Christian era saw Herod the Great upon the throne of Judea. Following the policy of the Herodian family his sole passion had been to found a great independent kingdom "in which the power of Judaism should subserve the consolidation of a state." Herod, bold and reckless, a tyrant of the worst type, in matters of diplomacy proved himself to be a genius able to swing all forces and factions into line with his policies. The fate of every man who lives for his own selfish interests, was his fate. His hands, wet with the blood of his best-loved wife, his sons, his benefactor, and the flower of his nation; his frame wasted by a loathsome and painful disease, he sat alone in his old age, his subjects waiting in veiled rebellion for his death.

While in this condition a new danger threatening the crown that had cost him so much. Word reached the palace that the long expected king of the Jews had been born. All Judea was excited for soon the expectation of a universal kingdom might be realized. Herod made a futile attempt to find the young king, and enraged to the point of madness resolved upon a course which would leave no room for his escape. The result was the slaughter of the innocents, and one of the darkest pages was added to the bloody history of the Herods.

When selfishness and greed reign supreme in a man's heart, humanity is forgotten. The Herods of Jesus' time are dead, but their modern representatives live. These are the men, who through an unjust and inhuman system of child-labor crush out the very life blood of our children.

Has the faith of the founders of this nation and government been realized? Did they succeed in establishing a nation in which great ideals would be forever dearer to the individual than his own private good?—When little children are sacrificed upon the altar of industry; when they are knocked down, run over and mangled by the car of commerce propelled by a greed that knows no law or pity; when they are thrust into a mill to work seven days a week with no opportunity for the development of their higher nature; when their muscle and brain which should be turned into citizenship is wasted and coined into money—and when all this is done by men who call themselves citizens of this nation, we answer no!

We have not perhaps, experienced the inferno of child torture which the records of the 19th century England picture so vividly. But it is the conviction of every student of our social life that we have to-day a child-labor problem so terrible in its magnitude that it should be a challenge to the very heart of the nation. The latest available statistics show that more than one million and a half children between the ages of ten and fifteen years are employed in gainful labor in this country, and in addition to this, personal investigation shows that thousands of children by being forced to swear that they are of a legal age, are employed in mills and sweat shops.

Let us walk through one of these mills where human units are employed and see their actual condition. As we enter we are greeted with the roar of great machines. The atmosphere is heavy and filled with dust and lint. On every side are little bodies bent and twisted, faces from which every vestige of color has departed, eyes red and heavy in which there is no sparkle of youth, hands that fly in a deft response to the claims of a machine. Under the searching eye of a foreman who knows no sympathy, these little martyrs of an industrial civilization toil on from day to day. Magnify this picture and you will see in a thousand such places a throng of suffering children equal to the population of one of our states.

The solution of this problem is a gigantic task. The only adequate way to solve it is through legislation, and in this we have made some progress.

The very existence of child labor is enough to brand the men who foster it as Modern Herods. But if this evidence is not deemed sufficient to prove the indictment, there is more at hand. Every piece of legislation that has been enacted against child labor has been enacted in the face of bitter opposition. The long struggle for better child-labor laws in New England was a struggle against these Modern Herods.

The burning wrong of child-labor carries with it certain dreadful retribution. To injure the child is to injure society. "Whatever burden society lays or permits to be laid upon the shoulders of its children, it must ultimately bear upon its own." Society's supreme interest is the child, and this should be its supreme responsibility. Let us have our great mills and factories; our great railroads and commercial enterprises. Let us rejoice in our country's industrial and commercial achievements; but let us remember that it is not these that constitute a state, but men—intelligent, moral, efficient men!

It is a law of nature that the physically unfit, "regardless of consequences, continue to propagate their kind, and swell the proportion of those who will be from birth to death a heavy liability against society,"—and nature is not mocked. If America continues to maintain an industrial system which makes her children weaklings, America will reap a harvest of citizens that will bring about her own destruction.

The outlook, which depends upon a rising wave of public sentiment against this evil, is optimistic. When the American people know that perhaps more than a million children are dying of overwork, or being forever stunted in body, mind, and spirit; when they know that at least two hundred and fifty thousand degenerates, who have a burning hatred for society that has wronged them, are being poured into the body of our citizenship every year; when they know that child-labor brings man's wages down to the level of the child's, and makes the parent incapable of providing for the child; when they know that the employment of children before they reach an age of maturity, reverses the evolutionary process in human development, and undermines the moral foundation of the home;—then, they will begin to think. And when in the call of a new patriotism they hear the spirits of the noble men who founded this nation cry out: "Watchmen, what of the night?" from the hearts of a loyal and consecrated citizenship will come the answer: "The morning cometh"—the morning of an aroused and enraged public sentiment, which will face these Modern Herods who refuse to be reformed, and upon the black smokestacks of their mills and factories, which now defiantly flaunt their policies of lawlessness and cruelty against the sky, will write the obituary of the ancient Herods. "They are dead that sought the young child's life."

Poetry—Today

PROVISION

I can not tell what way the years will lead,
How hands may falter and how feet may bleed,
What deep contentment I shall have or need,
I can not tell.

I do not know why the fleet early years
Should shake me with surmise of future tears,
Why golden suns should set in gloom of fears,
I do not know.

I must not ask of winter winds that come
Across the ground where men sleep cold and dumb,
If I shall rest there well—of my last home,
I must not ask.

I shall not shrink, maybe I shall not dread,
When time has slowed my step and bowed my head,
To go away, to join the cloistered dead,
I shall not shrink.

I shall have hope, in spite of heavy shame,
Among God's pensioners to find my name,
In Him who for the strayed and lost ones came,
I shall have hope.

—Charles L. O'Donnell in Ave Maria

Weather Report

Washington, Feb. 15.—Ohio—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature; moderate, variable winds.

Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia—Generally fair Thursday and Friday; not much change in temperature.

Indiana and Illinois—Mostly cloudy Thursday, becoming unsettled Friday; moderate temperature; moderate to brisk south winds.

Lower Michigan—Unsettled Thursday and Friday; moderate south winds.

WEATHER OBSERVATIONS

Observations of the United States weather bureau taken at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

	Temp.	Weather
Columbus	33	Cloudy
New York	28	Cloudy
Albany	18	Cloudy
Atlantic City	29	Clear
Boston	28	Clear
Buffalo	26	Clear
Chicago	32	Clear
St. Louis	35	Cloudy
New Orleans	32	Clear
Washington	30	Clear
Philadelphia	32	Clear

Weather Forecast

Washington, Feb. 15. Indications for tomorrow.

Ohio—Generally fair; not much change in temperature; moderate variable winds.

FINE DRAMA SEASON

ATTRACTIONS AT PLUNKVILLE REVIEWED BY EDITOR

Opening With Greater Barnstormers' Minstrels, the list included Prof. Svengali, "East Lynne," "Jesse James" and Others.

"The dramatic season just ended," said the Winesap County Weekly Indicator, "was the most successful in the history of Plunkville, both from an artistic and a financial point of view."

"Early in October the season was ushered in with the Greater Barnstormers' Minstrels, with 15 performers in high top slicks and beautiful pink dusters, who played the most ravishing circus marches in the courthouse yard. At the evening performance many of the latest melodies were rendered, including 'After the Ball,' 'Hot Time Tonight,' and 'Love Me and the World Is Mine,' also many first-class jokes which have never been seen in the almanacs in this section. Our versatile and talented barber, band leader, baseball pitcher, orchestra conductor, and society favorite, Mr. Nick Duggins, secured an engagement with the minstrels to play second baritone and double up in the evening as Mr. Rastus Johnsoning Brown."

"In November a hypnotist and entertainer called 'Prof. X. Svengali,' occupied the boards at the opera house. Professor Svengali put Sam Tucker, the timer, into a trance, and made him stand on his head in the corner and sing the 'Doxology.' After the performance Sam missed a five-dollar bill, but he allowed the fun was worth the money."

"In December we witnessed that soulful and lachrymose drama, 'East Lynne,' put on with great eclat and a whole lot of terrific success. Deacon Shuckles, who hasn't cried since his wife ran away with the leader of the Bass Center choir, broke into profuse tears; and as the large concourse of Plunkvillians shuffled down the steps that lead from over S. Quigley's well-known commission, confectionery and farm implements emporium, there was not a dry eye on the stairs."

"About the middle of January the Plunkville Theatrical and Terpsichorean Troupe rendered 'Kate, the Convict's daughter,' for the benefit of the South Sea head hunters. Miss Sadie Schree, our talented milliner, who took the immortal role of Kate Kipper, made a pronounced hit and admits that, when it comes to finished trap-door and red-light situations, she has Mme. Bernhardt backed off the boards. "The spring attractions included 'Ten Nights in a Barroom,' 'Jesse James,' a Shakespearean elocutionist who put everybody to sleep faster than Parson Buckner does, and a man without arms who played the bass viol with his toes."

"For the next season Manager Tobe Scruggles will maintain the same high standard. He has already engaged 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' a fiddling quartet, a moving picture show, a patent medicine entertainment and an ossified man. During the summer many notable improvements will be made. A new tin cornice will be erected and the interior will be repainted in exquisite tints of flamingo red, paris green, Helen pink and chrome yellow. With many striking fresco decorations representing Venus, General Grant, Cleopatra, the Muses and Little Bo-peep. For next season the same competent staff will serve the public. Capt. Artemus Jefferson, the saddler, will continue to preside at the box office in return for the privilege of seeing the shows free. Nathan Thomas, the grocer, will light up and make fires and 'Plazy' Partington, the widow's son, will act as usher and carry the red banner with the golden letters in the parades for the same splendid privileges."

HAVE YOUR Gas Fitting

done by one thoroughly experienced in

NATURAL GAS and APPLIANCES

If you have trouble heating a coal stove or range investigate my 3-way burner.

Wyman's Repair Shop

S. North St. Bell Phone 150W
Jan 16 eod

SNOW KINDLY FEELING

ENGLISHMEN MAKE GIFT TO NEW ENGLAND TOWN.

Residents of Hingham Have Sent Old Stepping Stone to Massachusetts Namesake—Presented by the British Ambassador.

The old stepping stone which for 700 years stood in the public square at Hingham, England, was presented to Hingham, in this state, on behalf of the citizens of the English village by James Bryce, the English ambassador, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says. The stone is to be used as a corner stone for a bell tower to commemorate the landing at Hingham 275 years ago of a band of pilgrims from Hingham, England.

Mr. Bryce said that he was glad to be privileged to express on behalf of the people of old Hingham in England, whence came the settlers of the new Hingham here, the sentiments with which they had sent this stone from their village green to the descendants of their common Norfolk ancestors. Used as a mounting block for riders in the old country, it spoke of a time when riding on horseback was practically the only means of travel. It spoke not only of its origin, but of all the changes that had passed in 290 years and of the warm good will and affection which those of the old town felt for those of the new town after all that lapse of time.

Looking through the list of settlers who had crossed the sea to this Massachusetts town in 1633 to 1639, he found many of the best known New England names. Among them was one name especially interesting, because its bearer is believed to have been the ancestor of the greatest American of the nineteenth century, Abraham Lincoln. There was, however, something more and something deeper than a mere continuity of families. There was a continuity of institutions and traditions.

"The settlers," said Mr. Bryce, "who came from Norfolk to Massachusetts bay to escape the oppressive rule of King Charles I. and Archbishop Laud, brought with them ideas and beliefs and habits already deeply rooted among the Englishmen of East Anglia, one of the most truly Teutonic parts of England. The love of freedom in the state, the love of freedom in religion, the sense of duty to God and to conscience. It was for the sake of these things that they left their quiet Norfolk homes to face the stern winters of a new and almost unknown land, in whose forests lurked unknown dangers from wild beasts and wild men. And it was on the foundation of these principles that they built up their institutions here, set up their self-governing towns, legislated in the general court of their self-governing colony and in due time joined in framing the constitution of their state and of the federal republic."

"That the American people have grown to a greatness and prosperity undreamed of by the little band who came from Old Hingham nearly three centuries ago is due partly to the sturdy spirit of the old race, but largely also to the faith that has never faltered in the principles and belief which the early settlers of the Bay state brought with them, and in their loyalty to which they and their descendants have never faltered. The history of American freedom is a continuation of the history of English freedom and both countries have alike given an example to the world of what these principles can accomplish."

A "Typical" Russian Scene.

At our feet, moored to one of the supports of the bridge, was a flat barge, and on it a soldier, in a black tunic and high boots, was washing his linen himself; he must have climbed down the bridge to get there. There was not a sound in the air, except the splash made by the washing. And then from the plain, dusty, rutty road a whole line of flat carts creaked along, one in front of the other, five of the foremost being without drivers; all of these carts were full of sacks. Alongside of the sixth walked the owner, a bearded peasant, dressed in a brown leather and very dirty coat lined with sheepskin. And every now and then he influenced the march of the line of carts by shouting a word or two to the horses. Not long after this the line of carts crossed the bridge and turned into the town, and the creaking died away in the distance; the lazy stillness fell upon the place once more; and so great was that stillness that the whole landscape seemed like a colored slide of a magic lantern.—Maurice Baring's in "The Russian People."

Remembering the Absent.

"I guess I'm getting into this social game all right," said Mr. Cumrox. "Be polite and courteous, yet formal. That's the idea." "What have you been doing?" inquired his wife, sharply. "You know them people who sent regrets because they couldn't come to our party?" "Yes." "Well, after I saw the party I sat down and sent 'em congratulations." Proof. "Our neighbor has a great deal of cash on him, hasn't he?" "I should say he has. He has enough to get through the crowd of water skiers on the cars to secure one of the best seats."

Borrow Money

From The Buckeye State Building and Loan Company, Rankin Building, 22 West Gay street, Columbus, Ohio, which loans money on homes and farms up to one-half their value at the lowest rates, and with the privilege of repayment in whole or in part at any time during term of loan. Assets, $5,200,000. Five per cent paid on time deposits. Write or call for booklets showing how money is received and loaned.

Teddy Confers With Friends

(Continued from Page One.)

ened and then went over the speech which Colonel Roosevelt will make before the Ohio constitutional convention Feb. 21, and in which he will make a declaration of his progressive policies.

Principles Above Persons.

If the conference had as a part of its purpose the securing of the colonel's consent to a definite declaration of his candidacy, it evidently failed in that part. For Mr. Van Valkenburg said later that it would be "principles and not persons" that would figure in the colonel's Columbus speech. He admitted that the greater part of the time during which he and the others were closeted with Mr. Roosevelt had been spent in going over and discussing the various points in the speech. He added, "yes" when asked if the speech would be an enunciation of progressive principles. There would be no word in the speech, said Mr. Van Valkenburg, concerning the colonel's position as a possible candidate.

Colonel Collier of San Diego, Cal., who in addition to looking after the interests of the San Diego Panama exposition has been sounding the Roosevelt sentiment in 35 states, according to his own statement was more specific than other visitors concerning the colonel's "platform." It would be satisfactory to the rank and file of the party, but might not please the "extreme radicals," Mr. Collier thought. He added that Mr. Roosevelt, if elected, would not be "as radical as LaFollette."

BLAMED A GOOD WORKER

"I blamed my heart for severe distress in my left side for two years," writes W. Evans, Danville, Va., "but I know now it was indigestion. Dr. King's New Life Pills completely cured me." Best for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, constipation, headache or debility. 25c at Blackmer & Tanquary.

TALK BY WIRELESS.

San Francisco, Feb. 15.—A human voice was carried 1,900 miles out into the Pacific. The board of army officers which has been making tests of the wireless telephone has completed its report. When the transport Sherman was 1,900 miles out an official test was successful. Voices and phonograph music were exchanged. An official exchange was made at 1,200 miles.

THE OLD RELIABLE

STILL IN THE LEAD

The finest lot of oranges in town, prices the lowest. Jumbo bananas 15c per dozen; crisp celery; a barrel of Springer's lettuce, 20c per pound. Crisp celery, fancy cranberries, sweet potatoes, fancy prunes and dried peaches. Lake herring, 2 for 5c. Fresh tub of fat mackerel, 3 for 25c. Finest smoked bacon, 12 1/2c per lb. Hand picked soup beans, 5 1/2c per pound.

See us

J. W. DUFFEY & CO.

The Old Reliable Cash Grocery

Both phones No. 77.

PLUMBING!

AGAIN IN BUSINESS.

For prompt service, satisfactory work, reasonable prices, call City. Phone 1128

E.T. EVANS

COMMENTS ON OUR RECENT WEATHER

DOINGS IN OHIO

What People in the Cities and Towns in the Buckeye State Are Doing and Saying—Notes of Interest.

Suicide Attempt Foiled.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Grasping her hand as she pulled the trigger of a revolver, Patrolman P. J. Mason prevented Mrs. Lewis Pappes, the young wife of a Greek restaurant keeper from shooting herself. The belief that she had intended for her heart just grazed her side. The attempted suicide came as the climax to a long period of abuse which, it is said, the 17-year-old wife has suffered at the hands of her husband. Some time ago she appealed to the police for protection, saying he was going to sell her into white slavery.

Kills Children and Self.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—When Adam Bujek called at the home of Peter Cleuch to deliver milk he peered through a window and saw two little bodies on a bed. He called the police who found Cleuch on the floor with his throat cut. On the bed, with his arms almost severed, lay the bodies of Cleuch's children, Czeslaw, 5, and Agnes, 3. Cleuch died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. The mother was away from home at the time of the tragedy. It is said Cleuch was despondent because he was out of work.

Marysville May Get Reformatory.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—That Marysville will be the site of the new women's reformatory, which is to be constructed by the state at an expense of several hundred thousand dollars, seems practically assured as a result of a meeting of the reformatory commission, which was held in the office of Governor Harmon. It was announced, however, that no decision had been reached, but that the commission had asked for further information concerning certain of the sites.

Murderer Gets Life Sentence.

Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Imprisonment for life in the Ohio penitentiary was the sentence given by Judge Dillon to Clarence King, who was indicted for first degree murder for the killing of Sam Case Dec. 27. It was left to the court to determine the degree of the crime committed when King pleaded guilty to a general charge of homicide and thus waived the right of a trial by jury. The penalty given by Judge Dillon was upon second degree murder.

Five Charged With Murder.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—Five men were arrested here in connection with the murder of Maurice Gellman, a striking garment worker, on statements made, the police say, by Joseph Madorsky and Isadore Benjamin, who were arrested in Cincinnati last week. Fifteen warrants, including those for the men arrested, were issued. Gellman was beaten to death because he refused to hold out.

Prohibits to Meet in Delaware.

Delaware, O., Feb. 15.—The state prohibition convention will be held in this city April 4 and 5. Mayor Leas of this city will deliver an address of welcome, and State Chairman F. W. Lough will speak at night.

Actor Shoots Actor.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—Max Abbott, an actor of New York, was shot and probably fatally injured here by George Stone, a member of a burlesque company, with which both men are connected.

Typhoid Epidemic Scars Newark.

Newark, O., Feb. 15.—Fifty cases were reported in the typhoid fever epidemic here and Dr. W. H. Knauss, city health officer, urged that all drinking water be boiled.

ITCHING HUMORS.

There Is Now a Way to Escape These Skin Torments.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk. People sometimes say, "Well, that new remedy of yours, Saxon Salve, may cure recent cases of eczema, but I doubt if it will help me for I have had eczema a long time."

The fact is, Saxon Salve was devised as much for chronic skin troubles as for acute cases, and it is equally effective, though usually the chronic cases are more stubborn.

Numbers of cases right around here could be cited, showing that Saxon Salve is exactly the remarkable soothing and curative remedy for skin diseases that we claim.

The itching is stopped in a few moments after the first application, and improvement is seen in a few days.

All humors and disorders of the skin, whether scaly, crusted or in the very first stages, usually yield to Saxon Salve promptly. If it does not, in your case your money is returned. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

TEMPORARY OFFICES.

Drs. L. M. and T. W. McFadden, whose offices were ruined by fire last week, are temporarily located in the house immediately back of Sites' grocery on North street, where they have established offices.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physies May Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in two sizes of packages; 12 tablets, 10c; 26 tablets, 25c; and 50 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Blackmer & Tanquary.

NOTED BIBLE DISCOURSE.

"The Wise and Foolish Virgins."

Mr. J. Adams Bohnet, V. D. M., of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is touring the continent under the auspices of The International Bible Students' Association, will deliver his noted discourse on the "Wise and Foolish Virgins" next Wednesday evening, February 21st, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., at Memorial Hall, Washington C. H., O.

Honest skeptics as well as Bible students are cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged and no collection will be taken.

Mr. Bohnet has given this lecture to large audiences in nearly every state in the Union and in the Provinces of Canada. He will connect the topic with that difficult fifth chapter of the Songs of Solomon, which he promises to elucidate and make as clear as any chapter in the Bible. The talk has been well reported by the public press in all parts of the country. Its character is along un-denominational lines. The Speaker shows what is the destiny of the foolish virgins. And his deduction is said to be both reasonable and satisfactory to the Christian intellect.

Want ads are profitable.

American Citizens In Danger

Unable to Leave Durango, Storm Center of Mexican Revolt.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Durango has developed into the greatest storm center in all disordered Mexico, according to advices received at the state department. Foreign life and property is reported in great danger if help does not come soon in the form of federal troops.

Revolts have been reported at Cruces, Velardena, Hodes, Catalina and Nazas. The number of troops in the state of Durango is wholly insufficient for the protection of the foreign interests. The federal government has promised to send more troops at once. There is considerable doubt of the ability of the Madero government to place more loyal troops in Durango at this time.

At Torreon the situation is reported as very bad. Foreigners are seeking escape from the city, but as railroad communication has been cut, it is believed many Americans will be obliged to remain there against their will for the present. It is reported that 70 rebels were killed in a battle near Torreon.

On the other hand, Colonel Steever, commanding at El Paso, reported to General Wood that he had sent a troop of cavalry to watch a band of cattle thieves reported encamped near an American ranch opposite Columbus 86 miles from El Paso.

Cut Rates In Twain

Georgia Congressman Aims Blow at Express Companies.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A bill prescribing the rates to be charged by express companies engaged in interstate commerce will be reported to the house in the near future. The bill was introduced by Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The bill proposes a material reduction in rates, amounting in the aggregate to about 50 per cent. It provides that packages of certain weight the contents of which do not exceed $50 in value shall be carried for distances of 2,000 miles and over for $1.20; just under 2,000 miles, 75 cents; not more than 1,200 miles, 50 cents; not more than 750 miles, 35 cents; not more than 500 miles, 25 cents.

To Cut Army Expenses.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A cut of $2,600,000 in the war department estimates and a reduction of $4,000,000 over last year's appropriations was provided in the fortifications bill reported to the house.

Committee Favors Herrick.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate committee on foreign relations decided favorably to report the nomination of Myron T. Herrick of Ohio to be ambassador to France.

SHOCKING SOUNDS

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Richmond, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

A Smooth Game But It Failed

Two young colored men representing themselves to be soliciting for funds for some university, appeared in this city one day this week and commenced a canvass of the residence district.

They had a very good "spiel" and are said to have succeeded in securing a few small donations, but they struck one man who was too shrewd for them and hurriedly left the locality.

The man referred to was solicited to subscribe, and in looking over the list, saw one of his neighbors had subscribed five dollars. He doubted this and called the neighbor who said he had not seen the men and had not subscribed one cent. The grafters thus exposed wasted little time in arguing the question.

DANCING SCHOOL

EAGLES' HALL

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 16

Beginners' Class 7:30 to 9. Assembly 9 to 12.

PERCE PEARCE, Instructor.

Gompers Exonerated

Grand Jury Finds No Evidence Against A. F. of L. Officials.

Washington, Feb. 15.—That the Indianapolis federal dynamiting investigation completely exonerated President Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor from any complicity in the alleged conspiracy, was the statement authorized at the department of justice. The implication of the "higher-ups" ended with the evidence against structural iron workers' union officials it was said.

With the serving of bench warrants in the indictments the government ends its investigation, it was learned. There will be no further grand jury sessions. The government will move for speedy trials. District Attorney Miller of Indianapolis will have charge of the prosecutions.

Fiftieth Birthday

Mrs. R. R. Scott, of the west part of the city, celebrated her fiftieth birthday anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at her home in honor of the event, and is the wife of Manager R. R. Scott of the Farmers' Mutual Telephone Co. The latter's cousins, J. C. and J. S. Fisher, of Washington C. H., Ohio, were present to enjoy the occasion as was also Marvin Scott and wife, and Harry Hudson and wife, of this city.—Columbia City (Ind.) Post.

Second Victim Of Flobert Rifle

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass, living near Williamsport, was shot in the stomach Tuesday while his brother and a playmate were playing with a 22-caliber rifle. The lad is in a serious condition with little hope of recovery.

This is the second local case of this kind to occur in Pickaway county the past few days, the other instance being identical with the one above mentioned, when 11-year-old McPherson Bach shot his 3-year-old brother and probably fatally injured him.

Want ads are profitable.

"Just Say" HORLICK'S

It Means Original and Genuine MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S.

Others are imitations.

SPRINGHILLSALE

—OF—

DUROC BRED SOWS

WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO.

SATURDAY, FEB. 17, 1912

Commencing at 12:30, Sharp

A splendid offering of 56 head of

IMMUNED

Bred Sows and Gilts, carrying the blood of the most fashionably bred animals of the breed. Sale will be held in the livery barn recently vacated by Fuller Hess, on Market street, opposite the Court House.

Auctioneers—Cols. Igleheart, Irwin and Scott.

Clerk—W. F. Jefferson.

Write for Catalogue

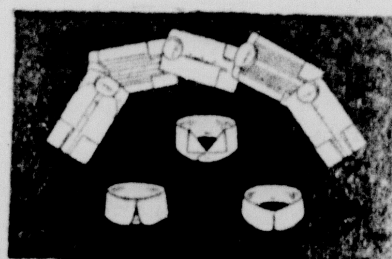

HUGH K. STEWART, Washington C. H., O

STOP Your Cough With SREXALL Cherry Bark Cough Syrup

A cough, if allowed to run, may result in very serious sickness. So at first sign of hoarseness or tickle in your throat take CHERRY BARK COUGH SYRUP. There's nothing better for coughs, colds, bronchial affections and lung troubles. Safe, pleasant, easy to take. Stop tickle at once. Price 25c and 50c

BLACKMER & TANQUARY.

LARRIMER

Best Shirt and Collar Laundry in Town

Both Phones

132 N. Fayette St.

Boys Behold Firebugs

The Marshal Zuber Gets First Clev. to Roscoe Incendiarists.

Coshocton, O., Feb. 15.—Fire Marshal Zuber found his first pay dirt in his quest for the firebug who has set the torch to the village of Roscoe. He had a conference with four Coshocton boys who were near Rittley's store burned Thursday evening. The boys saw two men walking around the buildings, and think they recognized one of them. Shortly afterward the flames burst forth. It is said that street probably will be made today.

HE WON'T LIMP NOW.

No more limping for Tom Moore of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." Heals all running sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, bruises, eczema or piles. Try it. Only 25 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Want ads are profitable.

COMMENTS ON OUR RECENT WEATHER

Copyright, 1912

DOINGS IN OHIO

What People in the Cities and Towns in the Buckeye State Are Doing and Saying--Notes of Interest.

Suicide Attempt Foiled.
Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Grasping her hand as she pulled the trigger of a revolver, Patrolman P. J. Masarson prevented Mrs. Lewis Pappes, the young wife of a Greek restaurant keeper, from shooting herself. The belief that she had intended for her heart just grazed her side. The attempted suicide came as the climax to a long period of abuse which, it is said, the 17-year-old wife has suffered at the hands of her husband. Some time ago she appealed to the police for protection, saying he was going to sell her into white slavery.

Kills Children and Self.
Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—When Adolph Czuch called at the home of Peter Czuch to deliver milk he peered through a window and saw two little boys on a bed. He called the police who found Czuch on the floor with his throat cut. On the bed, with his arms severed, lay the bodies of Czuch's children, Czeslaw, 5, and Agnes, 3. Czuch died in an ambulance on the way to a hospital. The mother was away from home at the time of the tragedy. It is said Czuch was despondent because he was out of work.

Mayville May Get Reformatory.
Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—That Mayville will be the site of the new women's reformatory, which is to be constructed by the state at an expense of several hundred thousand dollars, seems practically assured as a result of a meeting of the reformatory commission, which was held in the office of Governor Harmon. It was announced, however, that no decision had been reached, but that the commission had asked for further information concerning certain of the sites.

Boys Behold Firebugs

The Marshal Zuber Gets First Clue to Roscoe Incendiarist.
Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—Fire Marshal Zuber found his first pay dirt in his quest for the firebug who has set the torch to the village of Roscoe. He had a conference with four Coshocton boys who were near Retilley's store when the postoffice when they were burned Thursday evening. The boys saw two men walking around the buildings, and think they recognized them. Shortly afterward the place burst forth. It is said that the first probably will be made today.

HE WON'T LIMP NOW.
No more limping for Tom Moore of Cochran, Ga. "I had a bad sore on my instep that nothing seemed to help till I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve," he writes, "but this wonderful healer soon cured me." Heals all running sores, ulcers, boils, burns, cuts, bruises, eczema or piles. Only 25 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

Want ads are profitable.

Murderer Gets Life Sentence.
Columbus, O., Feb. 15.—Imprisonment for life in the Ohio penitentiary was the sentence given by Judge Dillon to Clarence King, who was indicted for first degree murder for the killing of Sam Case Dec. 27. It was left to the court to determine the degree of the crime committed when King pleaded guilty to a general charge of homicide and thus waived the right of a trial by jury. The penalty given by Judge Dillon was upon second degree murder.

Five Charged With Murder.
Cleveland, O., Feb. 15.—Five men were arrested here in connection with the murder of Maurice Gellman, a striking garment worker, on statements made, the police say, by Joseph Madorsky and Isadore Benjamin, who were arrested in Cincinnati last week. Fifteen warrants, including those for the men arrested, were issued. Gellman was beaten to death because he refused to hold out.

Prohibits to Meet in Delaware.
Delaware, O., Feb. 15.—The state prohibition convention will be held in this city April 4 and 5. Mayor Leas of this city will deliver an address of welcome, and State Chairman F. W. Lough will speak at night.

Actor Shoots Actor.
Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—Max Abbott, an actor of New York, was shot and probably fatally injured here by George Stone, a member of a burlesque company, with which both men are connected.

Typhoid Epidemic Scars Newark.
Newark, O., Feb. 15.—Fifty cases were reported in the typhoid fever epidemic here and Dr. W. H. Knauss, city health officer, urged that all drinking water be boiled.

ITCHING HUMORS.

There Is Now a Way to Escape These Skin Torments.
Try This Remedy at Our Risk.
People sometimes say, "Well, that new remedy of yours, Saxon Salve, may cure recent cases of eczema, but I doubt if it will help me for I have had eczema a long time."

The fact is, Saxon Salve was devised as much for chronic skin troubles as for acute cases, and it is equally effective, though usually the chronic cases are more stubborn.

Numbers of cases right around here could be cited, showing that Saxon Salve is exactly the remarkable soothing and curative remedy for skin diseases that we claim.

The itching is stopped in a few moments after the first application, and improvement is seen in a few days.

All humors and disorders of the skin, whether scaly, crusted or in the very first stages, usually yield to Saxon Salve promptly. If it does not, in your case your money is returned. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggists, Washington C. H., Ohio.

TEMPORARY OFFICES.
Drs. L. M. and T. W. McFadden, whose offices were ruined by fire last week, are temporarily located in the house immediately back of Siles' grocery on North street, where they have established offices.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN

Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physies May Cause Distressing Complaints

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in two sizes of packages; 12 tablets, 19c.; 26 tablets, 25c.; and 50 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Blackmer & Tanquary.

NOTED BIBLE DISCOURSE.

"The Wise and Foolish Virgins."
Mr. J. Adams Bohnet, V. D. M., of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is touring the continent under the auspices of The International Bible Students' Association, will deliver his noted discourse on the "Wise and Foolish Virgins" next Wednesday evening, February 21st, at 7:30 o'clock p. m., at Memorial Hall, Washington C. H., O.

Honest skeptics as well as Bible students are cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged and no collection will be taken.

Mr. Bohnet has given this lecture to large audiences in nearly every state in the Union and in the Provinces of Canada. He will connect the topic with that difficult fifth chapter of the Songs of Solomon, which he promises to elucidate and make as clear as any chapter in the Bible. The talk has been well reported by the public press in all parts of the country. Its character is along undenominational lines. The speaker shows what is the destiny of the foolish virgins. And his deduction is said to be both reasonable and satisfactory to the Christian intellect.

Want ads are profitable.

American Citizens In Danger

Unable to Leave Durango, Storm Center of Mexican Revolt.

Washington, Feb. 15.—Durango has developed into the greatest storm center in all disordered Mexico, according to advices received at the state department. Foreign life and property is reported in great danger if help does not come soon in the form of federal troops.

Revolts have been reported at Cruces, Velardena, Hodeo, Catalina and Nazas. The number of troops in the state of Durango is wholly insufficient for the protection of the foreign interests. The federal government has promised to send more troops at once. There is considerable doubt of the ability of the Madero government to place more loyal troops in Durango at this time.

At Torreon the situation is reported as very bad. Foreigners are seeking escape from the city, but as railroad communication has been cut, it is believed many Americans will be obliged to remain there against their will for the present. It is reported that 70 rebels were killed in a battle near Torreon.

On the other hand, Colonel Steever, commanding at El Paso, reported to General Wood that he had sent a troop of cavalry to watch a band of cattle thieves reported encamped near an American ranch opposite Columbus, 56 miles from El Paso.

Cut Rates In Twain

Georgia Congressman Aims Blow at Express Companies.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A bill prescribing the rates to be charged by express companies engaged in interstate commerce will be reported to the house in the near future. The bill was introduced by Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce.

The bill proposes a material reduction in rates, amounting in the aggregate to about 50 per cent. It provides that packages of certain weight the contents of which do not exceed $80 in value shall be carried for distances of 2,000 miles and over for $1.20; just under 2,000 miles, 75 cents; not more than 1,200 miles, 50 cents; not more than 750 miles, 25 cents; not more than 500 miles, 25 cents.

To Cut Army Expenses.

Washington, Feb. 15.—A cut of $2,000,000 in the war department estimates and a reduction of $1,000,000 over last year's appropriations was provided in the fortifications bill reported to the house.

Committee Favors Herrick.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The senate committee on foreign relations decided favorably to report the nomination of Myron T. Herrick of Ohio to be ambassador to France.

SHOCKING SOUNDS

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Richmond, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at Blackmer & Tanquary.

A Smooth Game But It Failed

Two young colored men representing themselves to be soliciting for funds for some university, appeared in this city one day this week and commenced a canvass of the residence district.

They had a very good "spiel" and are said to have succeeded in securing a few small donations, but they struck one man who was too shrewd for them and hurriedly left the locality.

The man referred to was solicited to subscribe, and in looking over the list, saw one of his neighbors had subscribed five dollars. He doubted this and called the neighbor who said he had not seen the men and had not subscribed one cent. The grafters then exposed wasted little time in arguing the question.

DANCING SCHOOL

EAGLES' HALL

FRIDAY EVENING, FEB. 16

Beginners' Class 7:30 to 9. Assembly 9 to 12.

PERCE PEARCE, Instructor.

Gompers Exonerated

Grand Jury Finds No Evidence Against A. F. of L. Officials.

Washington, Feb. 15.—That the Indianapolis federal dynamiting investigation completely exonerated President Gompers and other officials of the American Federation of Labor from any complicity in the alleged conspiracy, was the statement authorized at the department of justice. The implication of the "higher-ups" ended with the evidence against structural iron workers union officials, it was said.

With the serving of bench warrants on the indictments the government ends its investigation, it was learned. There will be no further grand jury sessions. The government will move for speedy trials. District Attorney Miller of Indianapolis will have charge of the prosecutions.

Fiftieth Birthday

Mrs. R. R. Scott, of the west part of the city, celebrated her fiftieth birthday anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at her home in honor of the event, and is the wife of Manager R. R. Scott of the Farmers' Mutual Telephone Co. The latter's cousins, J. C. and J. S. Fisher, of Washington C. H., Ohio, were present to enjoy the occasion as was also Marvin Scott and wife, and Harry Hudson and wife, of this city—Columbia City (Ind.) Post.

Second Victim Of Flobert Rifle

The four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Douglass, living near Williamsport, was shot in the stomach Tuesday while his brother and a playmate were playing with a 22-caliber rifle. The lad is in a serious condition with little hope of recovery.

This is the second local case of this kind to occur in Pickaway county the past few days, the other instance being identical with the one above mentioned, when 11-year-old McPherson Bach shot his 3-years-old brother and probably fatally injured him.

Want ads are profitable.

"Just Say" HORLICK'S

It Means Original and Genuine Malted Milk The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S. Others are imitations.

SPRINGHILLSALE

—OF—

DUROC BRED SOWS

WASHINGTON C. H., OHIO, SATURDAY, FEB. 17, 1912 Commencing at 12:30, Sharp

A splendid offering of 56 head of

IMMUNED

Bred Sows and Gilts, carrying the blood of the most fashionably bred animals of the breed. Sale will be held in the livery barn recently vacated by Fuller Hess, on Market street, opposite the Court House.

Auctioneers—Cols. Igleheart, Irwin and Scott. Clerk—W. F. Jefferson. Write for Catalogue

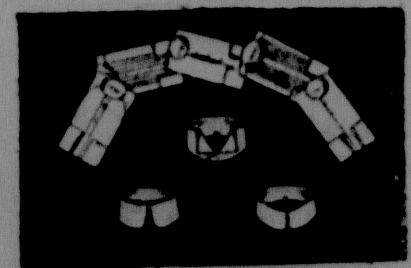

HUGH K. STEWART, Washington C. H., O

STOP Your Cough With SREXALL Cherry Bark Cough Syrup

A cough, if allowed to run, may result in very serious sickness. So at first sign of hoarseness or tickle in your throat take CHERRY BARK COUGH SYRUP. There's nothing better for coughs, colds, bronchial affections and lung troubles. Safe, pleasant, easy to take. Stop tickle at once. Price 25c and 50c

BLACKMER & TANQUARY.

LARRIMER

Best Shirt and Collar Laundry in Town

Both Phones 122 N. Fayette St.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

CLERK OF COURTS

I will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for Clerk of Courts of Fayette county, subject to the decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912.

Your assistance will be appreciated.

FRED M. MARK.

I am a candidate on the Republican ticket for Clerk of Courts, subject to the Republican primary, May 21, 1912, and respectfully solicit your support.

E. W. DURLINGER.

SHERIFF

We are authorized to announce that Willard E. Martin will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21, 1912.

We are authorized to announce that C. P. Luttrell will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held on May 21, 1912.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for member of Board of County Commissioners of Fayette county, subject to decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912. I will appreciate your support.

HUGH RODGERS.

We are authorized to announce that Louis Perrill, of Jefferson township, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21, 1912.

R. H. HARROP

Is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, subject to the Republican primary to be held May 21, 1912.

Your support highly appreciated.

FOR PROSECUTOR

I will be a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney on the Republican ticket subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21st, 1912.

CAREY E. BAUGHIN.

I am a candidate on the Republican ticket for prosecuting attorney, subject to the decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912.

TOM S. MADDON.

Heavy Loss In New York Fire

Special to Herald.

New York, Feb. 15.—Fire damaged the Michigan store to the extent of $60,000 today. A dozen persons were rescued by firemen.

Temple Stack Thrown Down

At 11:30 Thursday morning the mammoth smokestack of the Masonic Temple was hurled to the earth by a three-pound charge of dynamite which shook the business part of the city.

A large crowd witnessed the work of throwing the big chimney, and owing to the nature of the work, it was a dangerous operation. The charge was placed into position and the crowd ordered back to a safe distance. Everyone held their breath until with a roar the charge exploded hurling pieces of brick dangerously near some of the onlookers.

The big stack hung in the air a moment and then fell northward with a great crash into the basement of the temple.

Pieces of brick were hurled across the alley in the rear of the temple site, and crashed through the weatherboarding of the McCourt boarding house, and one piece crashed through the window of the dining room. Luckily no one was in the path of the brick.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

Want ads are profitable.

Asthma! Asthma!
POPHAM'S ASTHMA REMEDY gives instant relief and an absolute cure in all cases of Asthma, Bronchitis, and Hay Fever. Sold by druggists; mail on receipt of price $1.00.
Trial Package by mail 10 cents.
WILLIAMS' MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio.
Sold at Brown's Drug Store.

Messengers Robbed Of $25,000 Cash

Special to Herald.

New York, Feb. 15.—Three highwaymen sprang into a taxicab in Heart financial district, overpowered and robbed W. Smith and Frank Wardell, messengers of East River bank, of $25,000 in cash and escaped. Messengers badly beaten up.

Trouble Near Plano

An appeal was made by a woman to the police of this city for the arrest of a man near Plano, upon a charge of assault and threatening to kill her.

The affair was allowed to rest until the woman appears and files an affidavit, which she said she would do. The man mentioned is husking corn near Plano.

Funeral Services Of Joseph Myers

Mr. Myers' funeral at St. Columba's church at nine o'clock Thursday morning was very largely attended. Rev. Father Fogarty conducted the regular high mass with much impressiveness, and the choir in charge of Mrs. O. Kellhofer rendered the music beautifully, with solo "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by Miss Regina McDonald.

JOSEPH MYERS

Father Fogarty, in an eloquent sermon, spoke with deep appreciation of the upright man, who beginning his life across the seas, had lived out his days with so much honor as an American citizen.

Acting as pall-bearers were Messrs. John McDonald, W. W. Fenner, C. A. Cave, of this city; Mr. Martin Kaufman, New Holland; Mr. Val Kaufman, Melvin; Mr. Chas. Schwartz, Bloomingburg.

The floral remembrances were very beautiful.

Relatives and friends from a distance included Mr. George Kricker, Miss Louise Kricker, Portsmouth; Mr. Jos. Gennette, Miss Frances Wolf, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lorbach, Waverly; Mr. C. A. Noth, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaufman, New Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Val Kaufman, Melvin; Mr. Chas. Swartz, Mrs. Yeager, Bloomingburg; Mrs. Arvilla Rowe Baxter, Cincinnati.

YOUR AUTOMOBILE.

Will run this season with less expense if you read a copy of the new book—"Answers on Automobiles". Ask to see one at Rodecker's News Stand.

Harness Horse Gossip

The fast trotting mare, Annie Burns, 2:19 1-2, by Bobby Burns, 2:19 1-4, well known to the horsemen of this county, is the dam of the four-year-old pacing colt, Mo-burns (3) 2:24 1-4 and a very promising 3-year-old trotter that is expected to gain a record in 1912.

The Bondsman is to do stallion duty under the management of the noted trainer and driver, Charles De Ryder, at Pleasanton, Cal., this season. It is remembered that The Bondsman was leased by V. R. McCoy of this city in 1910, under whose management he had a very successful season.

Colorado E (3), 2:04 3-4, son of The Bondsman, will try for the world's trotting stallion record in his 5-year-old form this year.

W. A. Frazer, a well known horseman and business man of Whitehall, N. Y., died of pneumonia recently. Mr. Frazer was the gentleman that purchased the extremely fast pacing mare, Beaut McKinney 2:13 1-4 (trial 2:06), of Mr. B. L. Sollars, of this city, two years ago.

Chas. Bitzer, of this city, owns a very clever trotting filly, sired by Tramp Medium (2) 2:28 1-2 (own brother to the sensational 2-year-old trotter Trampfast (2) 2:12 1-4), and Donella B. by Whitmarsh 2:17 1-4, that he has christened May Tramp. She is coming 2-years-old and will be trained later on. As she is said to have worked an eighth last year as a yearling in 22 seconds, no doubt she will make a very creditable showing. May Tramp is entered and paid up in several futurities.

Ben, G. W. D., 2:08 1-4, son of Bobby Burns 2:19 1-4, goes to the auctions. Oscar Valley, the Derby, O., horseman, thinks that the high-golting trotting gelding Louis V, own brother to Bobby Bogun 2:12 1-4, by Bogun 2:19 1-4, dam by Bobby Burns 2:19 1-4, will be a high-class trotter this season. Louis V. has showed on several occasions that he is an extremely fast trotter. Mr. Valley intends to give Louis V a thorough preparation this season, with the view of an extended campaign over the more prominent half-mile tracks of this section.

Now is the time Mr. Stallion Owner to get your stallion before the breeding public. With the breeding season near at hand, the brood mare owners are investigating to find a suitable stallion for breeding purposes, as to produce the desired foal. The Washington Daily Herald and Ohio State Register will make a special effort to give your stallion the publicity that he deserves by means of judicious advertising.

The grey pacing gelding Andy McKinney (2) 2:24 1-4 by Wallace McKinney 2:26 1-4, owned by John Edwards of Jeffersonville, will be liberally staked this year over Ohio half mile tracks in the class which he is eligible. Andy McKinney was raced some in his 3-year-old form and was separately timed in 2:12 1-4 over a two-lap course. He was not worked any last year. After a year of the simple life which he deserved, he now is in fine shape, being roaded regularly each day. Mr. Edwards is very enthusiastic over the chances of his past pace and intends to give him the best of handling to prove his worth.

Bob McKinney, the son of McKinney 2:11 1-4, owned by J. L. Rothrock, of this city, has been leased to St. Marys, O. parties, where he will be offered for public service this season. Bob McKinney was in the hands of the same parties in 1911 and had a very successful season.

The Comfort and Satisfaction

Invariably attending the use of a National Vacuum Cleaner cannot be measured in Dollars and Cents.

EVERY ONE OF THE MANY USERS OF THIS REMARKABLY SUCCESSFUL AND SIMPLE CLEANER HAVE BEEN RID OF THE NECESSITY OF DUSTING THE WALLS AND FURNITURE. ALL HAVE SEEN THE ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE QUANTITIES OF DIRT REMOVED FROM THE FLOORS AND TAKEN FROM THEIR HOUSES. ALL REALIZE THAT THEIR RESIDENCES ARE AS A NATURAL CONSEQUENCE RENDERED SANITARY.

THE LUNGS OF THE FAMILIES USING THESE CLEANERS ARE NO LONGER CAKED WITH CLOUDS OF DUST INHALED. THE AIR OF THE HOMES HAVING BEEN CLARIFIED.

ALL THIS HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE USE OF THE NATIONAL VACUUM CLEANER, THE EQUAL IN EFFICIENCY OF THE HIGHEST PRICED CLEANERS, AND THE SUPERIOR OF CLEANERS COSTING FIVE TIMES AS MUCH. READ OUR TERMS GIVEN BELOW:

THE NATIONAL VACUUM CLEANER

Weight only 4½ pounds and can be operated with either right or left hand.

Has patented flexible nozzle. Held at any height it works satisfactorily.

Has a stronger suction than other cleaners and gets not only the SURFACE dirt, but also the dirt that is IN and BENEATH the floor covering.

It takes only ONE person to handle this machine and it is easier to operate than any other Cleaner.

A child can operate it.

Think how the wear and tear of your furniture and curtains will be saved by not having dust in your carpets. Use this Cleaner and have a sanitary home.

Removes all disease germs from the carpets that are brought into the house on the shoes.

Absolute cleanliness if you use this Vacuum Cleaner.

GUARANTEE.

The manufacturers guarantee this Vacuum Cleaner to be free from mechanical defects, and will replace without charge any part proving defective in material or workmanship for a period of 1 year from date of purchase.

TERMS:

Cash price for One Vacuum Cleaner and either paper for time given above

Let Us Reserve One For You to be Delivered At Your Option

$2.50

payable on delivery and $1.00 per week for five weeks

$7.25

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

CLERK OF COURTS

I will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for Clerk of Courts of Fayette county, subject to the decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912

Your assistance will be appreciated

FRED M MARK

I am a candidate on the Republican ticket for Clerk of Courts, subject to the Republican primary, May 21, 1912, and respectfully solicit your support.

E W DURELINGER

SHERIFF

We are authorized to announce that Willard E. Martin will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21, 1912

We are authorized to announce that C. P. Luttrell will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held on May 21, 1912

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I will be a candidate on the Republican ticket for member of Board of County Commissioners of Fayette county, subject to decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912. I will appreciate your support

HUGH RODGERS

We are authorized to announce that Louis Perrill, of Jefferson township, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Commissioner, subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21, 1912

R. H. HARROP

Is a candidate for the office of County Commissioner, subject to the Republican primary to be held May 21, 1912.

Your support highly appreciated

FOR PROSECUTOR

I will be a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney on the Republican ticket subject to the decision of the primary election to be held May 21st, 1912

CAREY E. BAUGHN.

I am a candidate on the Republican ticket for prosecuting attorney, subject to the decision of the primary election, May 21, 1912.

TOM S. MADDON.

Heavy Loss In New York Fire

Special to Herald.

New York, Feb. 15.—Fire damaged the Michigan store to the extent of $60,000 today. A dozen persons were rescued by firemen.

Temple Stack Thrown Down

At 11:30 Thursday morning the mammoth smokestack of the Masonic Temple was hurled to the earth by a three-pound charge of dynamite which shook the business part of the city.

A large crowd witnessed the work of throwing the big chimney, and owing to the nature of the work, it was a dangerous operation. The charge was placed into position and the crowd ordered back to a safe distance. Everyone held their breath until with a roar the charge exploded hurling pieces of brick dangerously near some of the onlookers.

The big stack hung in the air a moment and then fell northward with a great crash into the basement of the temple.

Pieces of brick were hurled across the alley in the rear of the temple site, and crashed through the weatherboarding of the McCourt boarding house, and one piece crashed through the window of the dining room. Luckily no one was in the path of the brick.

Try Mrs. Austin's Bag Pancake, sure to please you, all grocers.

Want ads are profitable.

Asthma! Asthma!

POPHAM'S ASTHMA REMEDY gives instant relief and an absolute cure in all cases of Asthma, Bronchitis, and Hay Fever. Sold by druggists; mail on receipt of price $1.00.

Trial Package by mail 10 cents.

WILLIAMS BROS. CO., Prop., Cleveland, Ohio

Sold at Brown's Drug Store.

Messengers Robbed Of $25,000 Cash

Special to Herald

New York, Feb. 15.—Three highwaymen sprang into a taxicab in Heart financial district, overpowered and robbed W. Smith and Frank Wardell, messengers of East River bank, of $25,000 in cash and escaped. Messengers badly beaten up.

Trouble Near Plano

An appeal was made by a woman to the police of this city for the arrest of a man near Plano, upon a charge of assault and threatening to kill her.

The affair was allowed to rest until the woman appears and files an affidavit, which she said she would do. The man mentioned is husking corn near Plano.

Funeral Services Of Joseph Myers

Mr. Myers' funeral at St. Columban's church at nine o'clock Thursday morning was very largely attended. Rev. Father Fogarty conducted the requiem high mass with much impressiveness, and the choir in charge of Mrs. O. Kellhofer rendered the music beautifully, with solo "Lead, Kindly Light," sung by Miss Regina McDonald.

JOSEPH MYERS.

Father Fogarty, in an eloquent sermon, spoke with deep appreciation of the upright man, who beginning his life across the seas, had lived out his days with so much honor as an American citizen.

Acting as pall bearers were Messrs. John McDonald, W. W. Fenner, C. A. Cave, of this city; Mr. Martin Kaufman, New Holland; Mr. Val Kaufman, Melvin; Mr. Chas. Schwartz, Bloomingburg.

The floral remembrances were very beautiful.

Relatives and friends from a distance included Mr. George Kricker, Miss Louise Kricker, Portsmouth; Mr. Jos. Gennette, Miss Frances Wolf, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lorbach, Waverly; Mr. C. A. Noth, Chillicothe; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kaufman, New Holland; Mr. and Mrs. Val Kaufman, Melvin; Mr. Chas. Swartz, Mrs. Yeager, Bloomingburg; Mrs. Arvilla Rowe Baxter, Cincinnati.

YOUR AUTOMOBILE.

Will run this season with less expense if you read a copy of the new book—"Answers on Automobiles". Ask to see one at Rodecker's News Stand.

Harness Horse Gossip

The fast trotting mare, Annie Burns, 2:19 1-2, by Bobby Burns, 2:19 1-4, well known to the horsemen of this county, is the dam of the four-year-old pacing colt, Moberns (3) 2:24 1-4 and a very promising 3-year-old trotter that is expected to gain a record in 1912.

The Bondsman is to do stallion duty under the management of the noted trainer and driver, Charles De Ryder, at Pleasanton, Cal., this season. It is remembered that The Bondsman was leased by V. R. McCoy of this city in 1910, under whose management he had a very successful season.

Colorado E (3), 2:04 3-4, son of The Bondsman, will try for the world's trotting stallion record in his 5-year-old form this year.

W. A. Fraser, a well known horseman and business man of Whitehall, N. Y., died of pneumonia recently. Mr. Fraser was the gentleman that purchased the extremely fast pacing mare, Beaut McKinney 2:13 1-4 (trial 2:06), of Mr. B. L. Sollars, of this city, two years ago.

Chas. Bitzer, of this city, owns a very clever trotting filly, sired by Tramp Medium (2) 2:28 1-2 (two brothers to the sensational 2-year-old trotter Trampfast (2) 2:12 1-4), and Douella B. by Wilmarca 2:17 1-4, that he has christened May Tramp. She is coming 2-years-old and will be trained later on. As she is said to have worked an eighth last year as a yearling in 22 seconds, no doubt she will make a very creditable showing. May Tramp is entered and paid up in several futurities.

Now is the time Mr. Stallion Owner to get your stallion before the breeding public. With the breeding season near at hand, the brood mare owners are investigating to find a suitable stallion for breeding purposes, as to produce the desired foal. The Washington Daily Herald and Ohio State Register will make a special effort to give your stallion the publicity that he deserves by means of judicious advertising.

The grey pacing gelding Andy McKinney (2) 2:24 1-4 by Wallace McKinney 2:26 1-4, owned by John Edwards of Jeffersonville, will be liberally staked this year over Ohio half mile tracks in the class which he is eligible. Andy McKinney was raced some in his 3-year-old form and had a very successful season.

Bob McKinney, the son of McKinney 2:11 1-4, owned by J. L. Roth, of this city, has been leased to St. Marys, O., parties, where he will be offered for public service this season. Bob McKinney was in the hands of the same parties in 1911 and had a very successful season.

The Comfort and Satisfaction

Invariably attending the use of a National Vacuum Cleaner cannot be measured in Dollars and Cents.

EVERY ONE OF THE MANY USERS OF THIS REMARKABLY SUCCESSFUL AND SIMPLE CLEANER HAVE BEEN RID OF THE NECESSITY OF DUSTING THE WALLS AND FURNITURE. ALL HAVE SEEN THE ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE QUANTITIES OF DIRT REMOVED FROM THE FLOORS AND TAKEN FROM THEIR HOUSES. ALL REALIZE THAT THEIR RESIDENCES ARE AS A NATURAL CONSEQUENCE RENDERED SANITARY.

THE LUNGS OF THE FAMILIES USING THESE CLEANERS ARE NO LONGER CAKED WITH CLOUDS OF DUST INHALED. THE AIR OF THE HOMES HAVING BEEN CLARIFIED.

ALL THIS HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED BY THE USE OF THE NATIONAL VACUUM CLEANER. THE EQUAL IN EFFICIENCY OF THE HIGHEST PRICED CLEANERS, AND THE SUPERIOR OF CLEANERS COSTING FIVE TIMES AS MUCH. READ OUR TERMS GIVEN BELOW:

THE NATIONAL VACUUM CLEANER

Weight only 4 1/2 pounds and can be operated with either right or left hand.

Has patented flexible nozzle. Held at any height it works satisfactorily.

Has a stronger suction than other Cleaners and gets not only the SURFACE dirt, but also the dirt that is IN and BENEATH the floor covering.

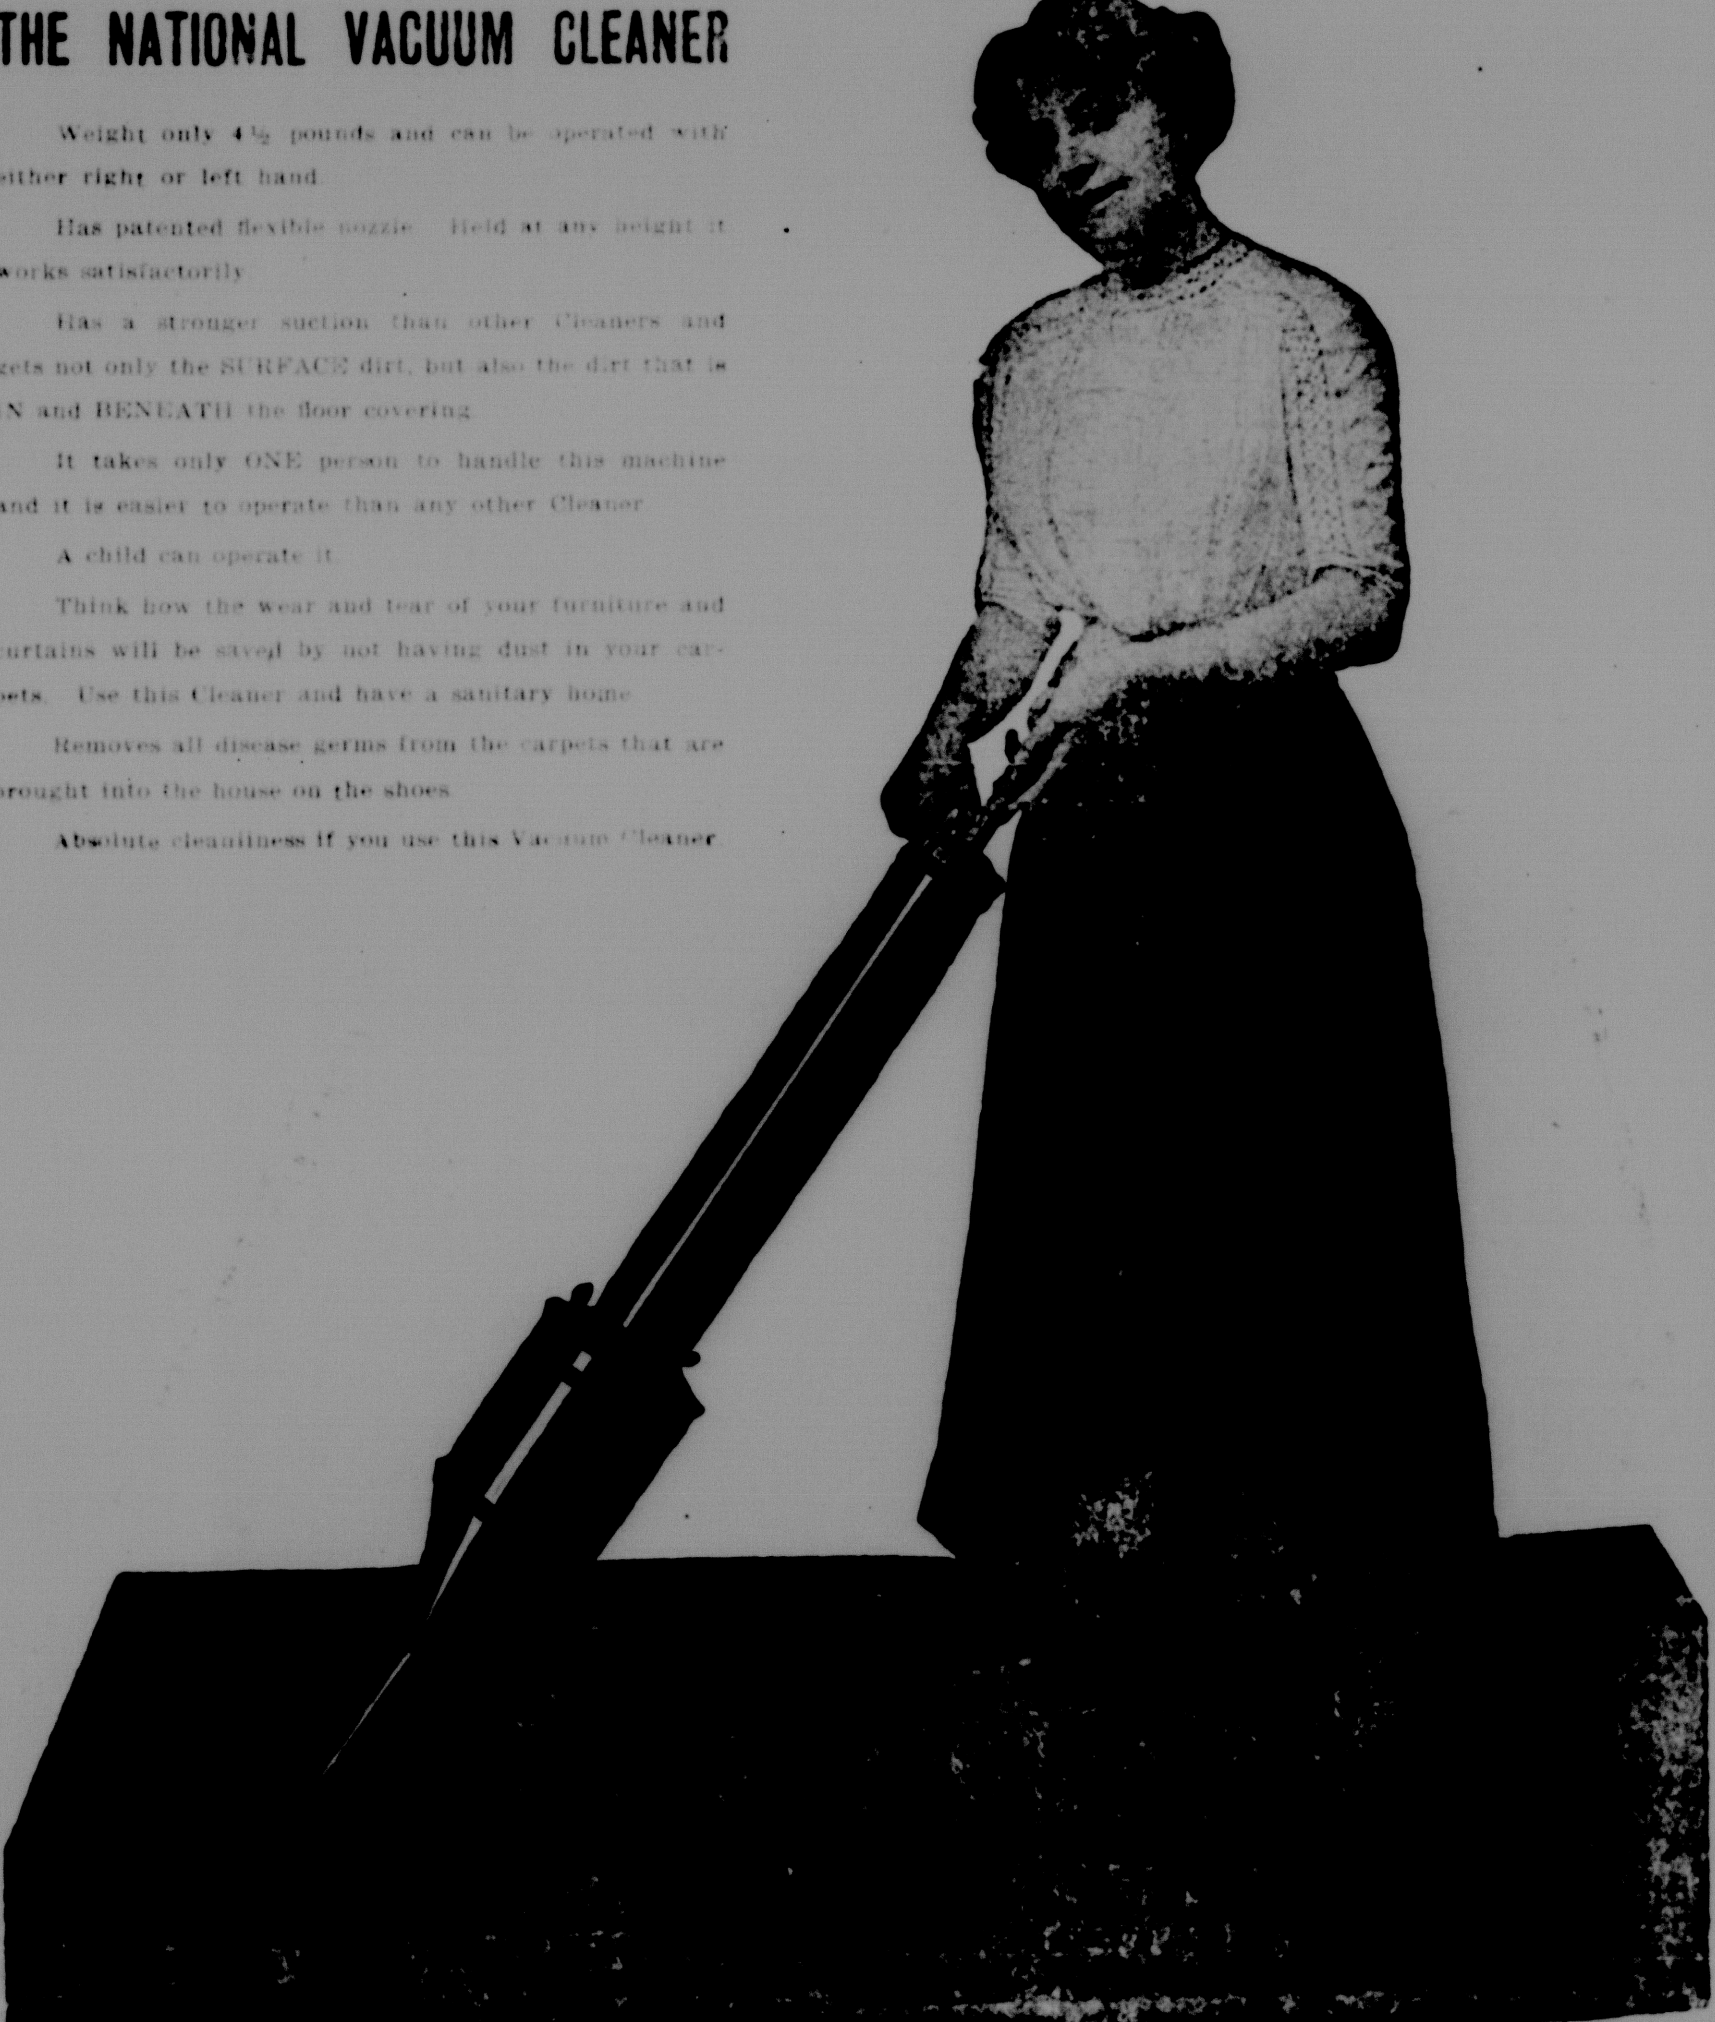

It takes only ONE person to handle this machine and it is easier to operate than any other Cleaner.

A child can operate it.

Think how the wear and tear of your furniture and curtains will be saved by not having dust in your carpets. Use this Cleaner and have a sanitary home.

Removes all disease germs from the carpets that are brought into the house on the shoes.

Absolute cleanliness if you use this Vacuum Cleaner.

GUARANTEE. The manufacturers guarantee this Vacuum Cleaner to be free from mechanical defects, and will replace without charge any part proving defective in material or workmanship for a period of 1 year from date of purchase

TERMS: with 6 months' subscription to The Daily Herald in Washington, by carrier, and one Vacuum Cleaner for... or, with 1 year's subscription to The Daily Herald, by mail, and one Vacuum Cleaner, for... or, with three years' subscription to The Ohio State Register, and one Vacuum Cleaner, for...

$2.50

payable on delivery and $1.00 per week for five weeks

Cash price for One Vacuum Cleaner and either paper for time given above $7.25

Let Us Reserve One For You to be Delivered At Your Option

Classified Columns

Our word 2 times 1c
Our word 6 times 2c
Our word 12 times 3c
Our word 24 times 4c
Our word 48 times 6c

WANTED.

WANTED—Ladies' coat suits to make and fancy sewing. Call Mrs. Mack Claylor, 420 East Third St. 34 61

WANTED—Lady agents—New article. Every woman needs it. Sells on sight. Write for agency proposition. Mrs. Liby's Bandage Co., 179 Shelby St., Detroit, Mich. 31 26

WANTED—Men and Women, sell guaranteed hose. 79 per cent. profit. Make $10 daily. Full or part time. Beginners investigate. Wear Proof, 1028 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. to Feb 16

LOST.

LOST—An unlaundered lunch napkin "B. M." embroidered in corner. Return to 121 West Temple. 40 21

LOST—A bunch of keys between opera house and the Willis Lumber Co. on Hinde street. Marked W. L. Vincent. Finder please leave at Dale's store. 39 21

LOST—A pair of nose glasses and gold bar pin with school monogram. Reward. Miss Elizabeth Ballard. 40 21

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—8-room house, conveniences, one square from court house. Barnetts Grocery. 286 11

FOR RENT—Four acres, house and barn, one mile from court house on Jeffersonville pike. Possession March 1st. H. C. Baker. 37 61 R 1

FOR RENT—House on Clinton avenue; will be vacant about February 20. E. B. Hukill. 38 61

FOR RENT—Small house on Columbus avenue. Enquire of D. P. Jackson. 212 Columbus avenue. 40 61

FOR RENT—Immediately, 4-room house, city water, garden, pleasant location. $8.00. W. R. Dalbey. 40 61

FOR SALE.

Orders taken for genuine Buff Orphington settings. $1 for 15. John Ducey, Bell phone 334 W. John St. 34 121

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds, males and females. Eggs for hatching. Bell phone 365 W. Mrs. J. H. Lawwill, Washington C. H., O. 34 181

FOR SALE—3 lots with 5-room cottage, barn, outbuildings, fruit and both kinds of water, building almost new; located on Rose avenue near North street. Clitz. phone 4536. 36 61

FOR SALE—Piano boxes, good for coal or grain. J. S. Smalley Piano Store. 38 61

FOR SALE—Pure Buff Orphingtons. Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald. Clitz. phone 535. 39 121

FOR SALE—An oak glass front kitchen cupboard, also one parlor and one student lamp. All in splendid condition. Call Ben Wetzel's Shoe Shop adjoining Adams Express office, West Court. 38 21

ROOMS FOR RENT.

ROOM FOR RENT—To respectable lady. Rent $2.00 per week in advance; regular price $5.00, but wish company for my wife. Instantaneous bath, gas, furnace heat, free. Suitable young married couple can rent it for $2.00. Call northwest corner North and Paint. D. Kirby Lerch, Washington C. H., Ohio. 39 21

Ships That Made History.

It is surely the very irony of circumstance which couples the names of the Alabama and the Kearsarge among the twelve American battleships which the secretary of the navy has reported to congress as no longer to be regarded as available for the first line of battle, and necessary to be replaced by 1920. Not far short of half a century has passed since that famous Sunday morning in June—almost as famous in its assistance to the making of history as another June Sunday of close upon half a century before which witnessed Waterloo—when the Federal war steamer Kearsarge fought and sank the Confederate cruiser Alabama in the roads off Cherbourg. The thrilling story of the fight was in all men's mouths for years afterward; and the Alabama, though under the waves, proved as perilous a craft for this country for long subsequently as she had done, when afloat, to the northern states. The only good that resulted from her existence, indeed, was to afford the first effective chance of proving the value of international arbitration.—Westminster Gazette.

MARKETS

Wheat No. 2	94c
New corn, white	60c
New corn, yellow	58c
Oats	50c
Hay No. 1 timothy	$22.00
Hay, mixed	20.00
Hay, clover	20.00

Fresh Meats.

Steaks	15 to 20c per lb
Roasts	10 to 15c per lb
Pork	10 to 20c per lb
Veal	19 to 25c per lb
Lamb	10 to 25c per lb
Cured Ham	17 to 25c per lb
B. Bacon	30c per lb

Provisions.

New home grown potatoes, pk	40c
Butter	30c
Lard	12 1/2c lb
Eggs	32c

DAILY TIME TABLE

BALTIMORE & OHIO
GOING WEST	GOING EAST
NO. Cincinnati	NO. Columbus
105.....5:02 A.M.*	102.....5:02 A.M.*
91.....8:23 A.M.*	104.....10:36 A.M.*
103.....3:32 P.M.*	108.....4:15 P.M.*
107.....6:14 P.M.*	106.....11:11 P.M.*

CINCINNATI & MUSKINGUM VALLEY
GOING WEST	GOING EAST
NO. Cincinnati	NO. Zanesville
21.....9:00 A.M.*	6.....9:45 A.M.*
19.....3:35 P.M.*	20.....5:58 P.M.*
Cincinnati	Lancaster
Sdy.....8:20 A.M.*	Sdy.....9:15 P.M.*

CINCINNATI, HAMILTON & DAYTON
GOING NORTH	GOING SOUTH
NO. Dayton	NO. Wellston
35.....7:53 A.M.*	202.....9:38 A.M.*
203.....3:57 P.M.*	56.....6:12 P.M.*
Sdy.....9:23 A.M.*	Sdy.....9:38 A.M.*
Sdy.....8:22 P.M.*	Sdy.....6:12 P.M.*

DETROIT, TOLEDO & INDIANAPOLIS
GOING NORTH	GOING SOUTH
NO. Springfield	NO. Greenfield
2.....7:53 A.M.9:00 A.M.
6.....2:52 P.M.8:00 P.M.

VAST IMPROVEMENTS NEARING THE END

While the citizens of Washington and surrounding towns have been suffering with cold, the work of remodeling and equipping the Washington ice factory, in order to keep the same people supplied with ice during the winter months, has been in progress. The 200-ton storage room has been completed. Several car loads of new machinery have arrived and the most of this has been installed. A 60-ton refrigerating machine and a 60-ton atmospheric absorption machine are among the equipment. Two new wells have been drilled and a water purifying apparatus and water cooling towers will be in use when the factory opens, so that the ice will be absolutely pure. Practically the entire interior of the plant has been remodeled. Workmen are still busy installing the remaining machinery.

Many Passengers Killed Fire Destroys Wreckage

Special to Herald.

Portland, Me., Feb. 15.—Four persons were killed outright and many persons injured in a collision near here today, between a passenger train and a freight on the Grand Trunk line. Following the wreck the cars caught fire. Doctors were summoned to the scene and administered chloroform to passengers who were hopelessly pinned beneath the wreck and in the path of the fire.

It is feared that many more dead are beneath the wreckage. The scene is a horrible one.

Yatesville Store To Change Hands

Within the next few weeks the McDaniel Brothers' general store at Yatesville, in Paint township, will have a new proprietor, as the present owners are preparing to ship their goods to Chillicothe, their home city. It is rumored that Mr. David Whiteside, one of Fayette county's former well known school teachers, now residing on a farm south of London, will open up a store in the building to be vacated by McDaniel brothers.

C. S. D. CLUB ENTERTAINED

The C. S. D. club, of New Holland, was royally entertained by Miss Iva Campbell, of Atlanta, Wednesday. A charming four-course dinner was served at the noon hour, and a jolly time was enjoyed by the young ladies until late in the afternoon.

Heigle Case Up

The preliminary hearing of the case against Dave Heigle, charged by his daughter with being guilty of incest, commenced Thursday morning behind closed doors, the public being excluded owing to the nature of the evidence expected.

Up to the time of going to press the case had not been decided.

Subscription Combinations

This is the time of the year when people turn their attention to securing their reading matter for the year. The Herald Publishing Co. is prepared to secure for its patrons any publication in the United States at the lowest rates.

Below will be found some excellent subscription offers for persons residing outside of Washington:

THE COLUMBUS DISPATCH

With Ohio State Register and either the National Stockman & Farmer or the Ohio Farmer, each 1 year, value $5.00 for $3.50

Stone Claims

Self-defense

Special to Herald.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—Max Abbott, the actor, who was shot here last night by George Stone, a fellow actor, died. Stone claims he did shooting in self-defense.

Chinese President Is Chosen Today

Youn Shi Kai was elected president of the Chinese Republic today, succeeding Sun Yat Sen, who resigned. Youn was elected by the Republican Assembly.

New Martinsburg

The Box Social given by the Epworth League of the Walnut Creek M. E. church was attended by a large crowd Wednesday evening.

Mr. Edward Chickner, of Springfield is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

The kitchen shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Terrell was a pleasant affair, and they received many useful presents.

Gilbert Wain, W. R. Smith, J. S. Smith and Geo. W. Chrisman were in Washington Monday.

Those on the sick list are: Perle Wilson, Geo. Powell and Robert Luttrell.

The silver wedding given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carson was attended by several from this community.

Rev. D. B. Wilhite has returned home from holding a protracted meeting at Flora, Ill. His next appointment is at Columbus, O.

Train in River Many Meet Death

Special to Herald.

Huntington, Pa., Feb. 15.—Pennsylvania limited express derailed near here at noon today three coaches going over embankment into river. Officials admit four persons killed, 25 injured. Accident caused by truck of 2nd locomotive breaking. Relief crews and physicians dispatched to the scene.

Man Shot Who Says He Killed Goebel

Special to Herald.

Helena, Ark., Feb. 15.—James Gilbert, who came here from Kentucky, confessed he was the man who killed Governor Goebel, was fatally wounded in a duel here today.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND. Labeled Ask your Druggist for Chichester's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold wrapper. Price 50c. Sold by Druggists Everywhere.

Viola Cream

Makes perfect complexion, keeps complexion perfect, clears imperfections, develops a smooth, velvety skin. Price 50c

Viola Skin Soap

is a pure, delicate, cleansing soap for the bath, complexion, dandruff or anywhere a good soap is desired. Price 25c

Velota Face Powder

is practically invisible, leaving the skin smooth and velvety. It is both a cure and a preventive for roughness, etc. Price 25c

With every jar of VIOLA CREAM at 50c we give you free a box of the powder (either flesh tint or white) and a bar of the Soap—a dollar's worth for 50c.

CHRISTOPHER COURT ST. opp Court House

DRUGS That's My Business

WEBSTER'S
NEW REVISED
DICTIONARY COUPON
THURSDAY, FEB. 15, 1912.
READ FULL PARTICULARS BELOW

Six Coupons of Consecutive Dates Constitute 1 Set

Cut out the above coupon, with five others of consecutive dates, and present them at Herald office with the specified expense bonus, (which covers the cost of packing, express from the factory, checking, clerk hire, and other necessary expenses), and receive Dictionary described below.

Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary

bound in genuine limp leather, stamped in gold on back and sides; beautiful, strong, durable! high grade printing on high grade paper. Has many beautiful colored plates—the 1910 census, a valuable appendix, etc.

This $3 book given free for six consecutive coupons and expense bonus of.....

98c

Same book equipped with latest patent thumb index, 22c additional or.....

$1.20

Send 20 cents extra with mail orders.

Classified Columns

One word 2 times.....1c
One word 6 times.....2c
One word 12 times.....3c
One word 26 times.....4c
One word 52 times.....6c

WANTED.

WANTED—Ladies' coat suits to make and fancy sewing. Call Mrs. Mack Clayton, 420 East Third St. 34 6t

WANTED—Lady agents—New article. Every woman needs it. Sells on sight. Write for agency proposition. Mrs. Libby's Bandage Co., 179 Shelby St., Detroit, Mich. 31 26

WANTED—Men and Women, sell guaranteed hose. 70 per cent. profit. Make $10 daily. Full or part time. Beginners investigate. Wear Proof, 1028 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. to Feb 16

LOST.

LOST—An unlaundered lunch napkin "B. M." embroidered in corner. Return to 121 West Temple 40 2t

LOST—A bunch of keys between opera house and the Willis Lumber Co., on Hinde street. Marked W. L. Vincent. Finder please leave at Dale's store. 39 2t

LOST—A pair of nose glasses and a gold bar pin with school monogram. Edward. Miss Elizabeth Ballard. 40 2t

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—8-room house, conveniences, one square from court house. Barnetts Grocery. 286 ft

FOR RENT—Four acres, house and barn, one mile from court house on Jeffersonville pike. Possession March 1st. H. C. Baker. 37 6t R 1

FOR RENT—House on Clinton avenue; will be vacant about February 29. E. B. Hukill. 38 6t

FOR RENT—Small house on Columbus avenue. Enquire of D. P. Jackson. 212 Columbus avenue. 40 6t

FOR RENT—Immediately, 4-room house, city water, garden, pleasant location. $8.00. W. R. Dalbey. 40 6t

Professional Column

PHYSICIANS

C. A. TEETERS, M. D.,
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Eyes Examined. Glasses Fitted
Office, Worthington Block,
Market Street. Home P. 58

OPTICIANS

JAMES T. TUTTLE,
Optician,
Washington C. H., Ohio,
138 E. Court St.

MONEY TO LOAN

MONEY TO LOAN
At all times, in any amount.
Frank M. Fullerton.

MONEY TO LOAN
on real estate, chattels and personal security.
Frank M. Allen.

Funeral Directors

ALBERT R. MCCOY
Funeral Director
and Embalmer.
Office 222 E. Court St. Bell Tel., office 27; residence 9 R; Citizen, office, 27; residence 541.

ELMER A. KLEVER,
Funeral Director.
Bell Phone: Res. 394-2; Office 294
Cit. Phone: Res. 161; Office 160

C. E. MURRAY
UNDERTAKING COMPANY,
222 E. Court St., Washington C. H.
Office—Both Phone 65.
Residence Phone, Bell 66; Home 1 on 66.

FOR SALE.

Orders taken for genuine Buff Orphington settings. $1 for 15. John Ducey, Bell phone 334 W. John St. 34 12t

FOR SALE—Rhode Island Reds, males and females. Eggs for hatching. Bell phone 365 W. Mrs. J. H. Lawwill, Washington C. H., O. 34 18t

FOR SALE—3 lots with 5-room cottage, barn, outbuildings, fruit and both kinds of water, building almost new; located on Rose avenue near North street. Cit. phone 4530. 36 6t

FOR SALE—Piano boxes, good for coal or grain. J. S. Smalley Piano Store. 38 6t

FOR SALE—Pure Buff Orphingtons. Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald. Cit. phone 535. 39 12t

FOR SALE—An oak glass front kitchen cupboard, also one parlor and one student lamp. All in splendid condition. Call Ben Wetzel's Shoe Shop adjoining Adams Express office, West Court. 40 2t

ROOMS FOR RENT.

ROOM FOR RENT—To respectable lady. Rent $2.00 per week in advance; regular price $5.00, but wish company for my wife. Instantaneous bath, gas, furnace heat, free. Suitable young married couple can rent it for $3.00. Call northwest corner North and Paint. D. Kirby Lerch, Washington C. H., Ohio. 39 2t

Ships That Made History.

It is surely the very irony of circumstance which couples the names of the Alabama and the Kearsarge among the twelve American battleships which the secretary of the navy has reported to congress as no longer to be regarded as available for the first line of battle, and necessary to be replaced by 1920. Not far short of half a century has passed since that famous Sunday morning in June—almost as famous in its assistance to the making of history as another June Sunday of close upon half a century before which witnessed Waterloo—when the Federal war steamer Kearsarge fought and sank the Confederate cruiser Alabama in the roads off Cherbourg. The thrilling story of the fight was in all men's mouths for years afterward; and the Alabama, though under the waves, proved as perilous a craft for this country for long subsequently as she had done, when aloft, to the northern states. The only good that resulted from her existence, indeed, was to afford the first effective chance of proving the value of international arbitration—Westminster Gazette.

MARKETS

Wheat No. 2	94c
New corn, white	60c
New corn, yellow	58c
Oats	50c
Hay No. 1 timothy	$22.00
Hay, mixed	20.00
Hay, clover	20.00

Fresh Meats.

Steaks	15 to 20c per lb
Roasts	10 to 15c per lb
Pork	10 to 20c per lb
Veal	10 to 25c per lb
Lamb	10 to 25c per lb
Cured Ham	17 to 25c per lb
B. Bacon	30c per lb

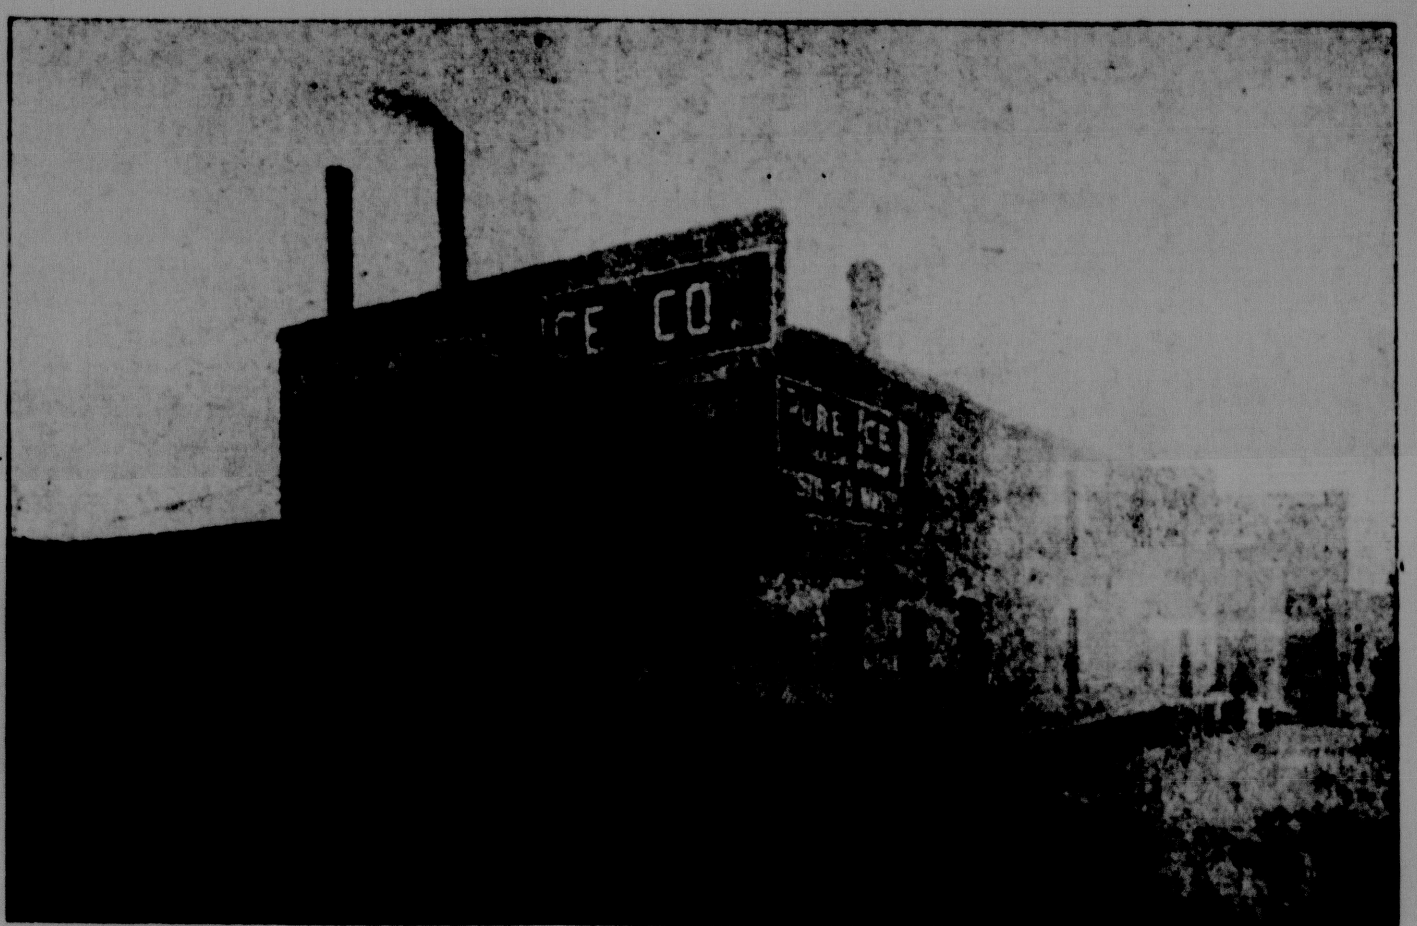

Provisions.

New home grown potatoes, pk	40c
Butter	30c
Lard	12 1/2c lb
Eggs	32c

DAILY TIME TABLE

BALTIMORE & OHIO
GOING WEST	GOING EAST
No. Cincinnati	No. Columbus
105.....5:02 A. M.	102.....5:02 A. M.
91.....8:23 A. M.	104.....10:36 A. M.
103.....3:32 P. M.	108.....4:15 P. M.
107.....6:14 P. M.	106.....11:11 P. M.
CINCINNATI & COLUMBIAN VALLEY
GOING WEST	GOING EAST
No. Cincinnati	No. Zanesville
21.....9:00 A. M.	6.....9:45 A. M.
19.....3:35 P. M.	20.....5:58 P. M.
Sdy.....8:20 A. M.	Sdy.....9:15 P. M.
CINCINNATI, HAMILTON & DAYTON
GOING NORTH	GOING SOUTH
No. Dayton	No. Hamilton
55.....7:53 A. M.	302.....9:35 A. M.
308.....3:57 P. M.	56.....6:12 P. M.
Sdy.....9:23 A. M.	Sdy.....9:35 A. M.
94y.....8:22 P. M.	Sdy.....6:12 P. M.
CINCINNATI, TULSA & MOBILE
GOING NORTH	GOING SOUTH
No. Springfield	No. Cincinnati
2.....7:53 A. M.9:20 A. M.
3.....3:52 P. M.8:00 P. M.

VAST IMPROVEMENTS NEARING THE END

While the citizens of Washington and surrounding towns have been suffering with cold, the work of re-modeling and equipping the Washington ice factory in order to keep an ice factory for a great many years to come is in progress. The 200-ton storage room has been completed. Several car loads of new machinery have arrived and the most of this has been installed. A 60-ton refrigerating machine and a 60-ton atmospheric absorption machine are among the equipment. Two new wells have been drilled and a water purifying apparatus and water cooling towers will be in use when the factory opens, so that the ice will be absolutely pure. Practically the entire interior of the plant has been remodeled. Workmen are still busy installing the remaining machinery.

Many Passengers Killed Fire Destroys Wreckage

Special to Herald.
Portland, Me., Feb. 15.—Four persons were killed outright and many persons injured in a collision near here today, between a passenger train and a freight on the Grand Trunk line. Following the wreck the cars caught fire. Doctors were summoned to the scene and administered chloroform to passengers who were hopelessly pinned beneath the wreck and in the path of the fire. It is feared that many more dead are beneath the wreckage. The scene is a horrible one.

Yatesville Store To Change Hands

Within the next few weeks the McDaniel Brothers' general store at Yatesville, in Paint township, will have a new proprietor, as the present owners are preparing to ship their goods to Chillicothe, their home city. It is rumored that Mr. David Whiteside, one of Fayette county's former well known school teachers, now residing on a farm south of Loudon, will open up a store in the building to be vacated by McDaniel brothers.

C. S. D. CLUB ENTERTAINED

The C. S. D. club, of New Holland, was royally entertained by Miss Iva Campbell, of Atlanta, Wednesday. A charming four-course dinner was served at the noon hour, and a jolly time was enjoyed by the young ladies until late in the afternoon.

Heigle Case Up

The preliminary hearing of the case against Dave Heigle, charged by his daughter with being guilty of incest, commenced Thursday morning behind closed doors, the public being excluded owing to the nature of the evidence expected. Up to the time of going to press the case had not been decided.

Subscription Combinations

This is the time of the year when people turn their attention to securing their reading matter for the year. The Herald Publishing Co. is prepared to secure for its patrons any publication in the United States at the lowest rates.

Below will be found some excellent subscription offers for persons residing outside of Washington:

THE COLUMBUS DISPATCH.
With Ohio State Register and either the National Stockman & Farmer or the Ohio Farmer, each 1 year, value	$5.00
	for $3.00

Or with the Daily Herald and either the National Stockman & Farmer or Ohio Farmer, each one year, value $7.00 for $5.50

THE COLUMBUS CITIZEN

with Ohio State Register each one year, value $4.00 for $2.75

Or with the Daily Herald, each 1 year, value $6.00 for $4.75

THE CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR

with the Ohio State Register, each 1 year, value $4.00 for $2.75

Or with the Daily Herald, each 1 year, value $6.00 for $4.75

THE CINCINNATI POST

with the Ohio State Register, each 1 year, value $4.00 for $2.75

Or with the Daily Herald, each 1 year, value $6.00 for $4.75

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION

with the Ohio State Register, each 1 year, value $3.00 for $2.50

Or with the Daily Herald, each 1 year, value $5.00 for $4.50

(The offers above including the Youth's Companion are good only until March 31, 1912. After that date the prices above will be increased 50c. Until March 31 we will furnish the Youth's Companion alone, one year for $1.75.)

Send all orders to

THE HERALD PUB. CO.,
Washington C. H., Ohio.

Want ads are profitable.

Want ads are profitable.

RAINIEST SPOT ON EARTH

The rainfall of a village among the hills of Assam during the ten weeks from May 1 to July 9 was 350 inches. The village is Cherrapunji, the rainiest spot in Asia and presumably in the world. Its annual rainfall is something over 400 inches, say, 15 times as much as London. Cherrapunji stands on a plateau overlooking the plain of Sylhet, and it is 4,455 feet above sea level.

New Martinsburg

The Box Social given by the Epworth League of the Walnut Creek M. E. church was attended by a large crowd Wednesday evening.

Mr. Edward Ciekner, of Springfield is visiting friends and relatives at this place.

The kitchen shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Terrell was a pleasant affair, and they received many useful presents.

Gilbert Wala, W. R. Smith, J. S. Smith and Geo. W. Chrisman were in Washington Monday.

Those on the sick list are: Perle Wilson, Geo. Powell and Robert Luttrell.

The silver wedding given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carson was attended by several from this community.

Rev. D. B. Whitte has returned home from holding a protracted meeting at Flora, Ill. His next appointment is at Columbus, O.

Train in River Many Meet Death

Special to Herald.
Huntington, Pa., Feb. 15.—Pennsylvania limited express derailed near here at noon today three coaches going over embankment into river. Officials admit four persons killed, 25 injured. Accident caused by truck of 2nd locomotive breaking. Relief crews and physicians dispatched to the scene.

Man Shot Who Says He Killed Goebel

Special to Herald.
Helena, Ark., Feb. 15.—James Gilbert, who came here from Kentucky, confessed he was the man who killed Governor Goebel, was fatally wounded in a duel here today.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND
Largest Sale in the World
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Stone Claims Self-defense

Special to Herald.
Cincinnati, O., Feb. 15.—Max Abbott, the actor, who was shot here last night by George Stone, a fellow actor, died. Stone claims he did shooting in self-defense.

Chinese President Is Chosen Today

Youn Ski Kai was elected president of the Chinese Republic today, succeeding Sun Yat Sen, who resigned. Youn was elected by the Republican Assembly.

VIOLA Cream
Makes perfect complexion, keeps complexion perfect, clears imperfections, develops a smooth, velvety skin. Price 50c

VIOLA Skin Soap
is a pure, delicate, cleansing soap for the bath, complexion, dandruff or anywhere a good soap is desired. Price 25c

Velota Face Powder
is practically invisible, leaving the skin smooth and velvety. It is both a cure and a preventive for roughness, etc. Price 25c

With every jar of VIOLA CREAM at 50c we give you free a box of the powder (either flesh tint or white) and a bar of the Soap—a dollar's worth for 50c.

CHRISTOPHER DRUGS
COURT ST. opp Court House
That's My Business

CUT HERE

WEBSTER'S
NEW REVISED
DICTIONARY COUPON
THURSDAY FEB. 15, 1912
READ FULL PARTICULARS BELOW

Six Coupons of Consecutive Dates Constitute 1 set

CUT HERE

Cut out the above coupon, with five others of consecutive dates, and present them at Herald office with the specified expense bonus, (which covers the cost of packing, express from the factory, checking, clerk hire, and other necessary expenses), and receive Dictionary described below

Webster's New Revised Standard Dictionary
bound in genuine limp leather, stamped in gold on back and sides; beautiful, strong, durable! high grade printing on high grade paper. Has many beautiful colored plates—the 1910 census, a valuable appendix, etc.

This $3 book given free for six consecutive coupons and expense bonus of..... 98c

Same book equipped with latest patent thumb index, 22c additional or..... $1.20

Send 20 cents extra with mail orders.

THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

By VAUGHAN KESTER
ILLUSTRATIONS BY D. MELVILLE

(Continued from yesterday's issue.)

But the judge had already formed his decision. Horse-racing and shooting-matches were suggestive of that progressive spirit, the absence of which he had so much lamented at the jail raising at Pleasantville. Memphis was their objective point, but Boggs became a side issue of importance. They had gained the edge of the village when Carrington overtaken them. He stepped to Hannibal's side.

"Here, let me carry that long rifle, son!" he said. Hannibal looked up into his face, and yielded the piece without a word. Carrington balanced it on his big palm. "I reckon it can shoot—these old gums are hard to beat!" he observed.

"She's the closest shooting rifle I ever sighted," said Hannibal promptly.

Carrington laughed. There was a rusty name-plate on the stock of the old sporting rifle; this caught Carrington's eye.

"What's the name here? Oh, Turberville."

The judge, a step or two in advance, wheeled in his tracks with a startling suddenness.

"What?" he faltered, and his face was ashen.

"Nothing, I was reading the name here; it is yours, sir, I suppose," said Carrington.

"No, sir—no; my name is Price—Slocum Price! Turberville—Turberville!"

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"We'll stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days ago," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled, the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift-rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Malroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away.

"When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced child ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocum Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protegee so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquiringly.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his ble

THE PRODIGAL JUDGE

By VAUGHAN KESTER
ILLUSTRATIONS BY D. MELVILLE

(Continued from yesterday's issue.)

But the judge had already formed his decision. Horse-racing and shooting-matches were suggestive of that progressive spirit, the absence of which he had so much lamented at the jail raising at Pleasantville. Memphis was their objective point, but Boggs became a side issue of importance. They had gained the edge of the village when Carrington overtook them. He stepped to Hannibal's side.

"Here, let me carry that long rifle, son!" he said. Hannibal looked up into his face, and yielded the piece without a word. Carrington balanced it on his big palm. "I reckon it can shoot—these old guns are hard to beat!" he observed.

"She's the closest shooting rifle I ever sighted," said Hannibal promptly.

Carrington laughed. There was a rusty name-plate on the stock of the old sporting rifle; this caught Carrington's eye.

"What's the name here? Oh, Turberville."

The judge, a step or two in advance, wheeled in his tracks with a startling suddenness.

"What?" he faltered, and his face was ashen.

"Nothing, I was reading the name here; it is yours, sir, I suppose?" said Carrington.

"No, sir—no; my name is Price—Slocom Price," Turberville—Turberville.

Hannibal Gave Him a Frightened Glance and Edged Toward Mr. Mahaffy's Side.

"vill—" he muttered thickly, staring stupidly at Carrington.

"It's not a common name, you seem to have heard it before!" said the latter.

A spasm of pain passed over the judge's face.

"I've heard it. The name is on the rifle, you say?"

"Here on the stock, yes."

The judge took the gun and examined it in silence.

"Where did you get this rifle, Hannibal?" he at length asked brokenly.

"I fetched it away from the Barony, sir; Mr. Crenshaw said I might have it."

The judge gave a great start, and a hoarse, inarticulate murmur stole from between his twitching lips.

"What do you know of the Barony, Hannibal?"

"I lived at the Barony once, until Uncle Bob took me to Scratch Hill to be with him," said Hannibal.

"You—you lived at the Barony?" repeated the judge, and a dull wonder struck through his tone. "How long—when?" he continued.

"I don't know how long it were, but until Uncle Bob carried me away after the old general died."

The judge slipped a hand under the child's chin and tilted his face back so that he might look into it. For a long moment he studied closely those small features, then with a shake of the head he handed the rifle to Carrington, and without a word strode forward. Carrington had been regarding Hannibal with a quickened interest.

"Hello!" he said, as the judge moved off. "You're the boy I saw at Scratch Hill!"

Hannibal gave him a frightened glance, and edged to Mr. Mahaffy's side, but did not answer.

The judge plodded forward, his shoulders drooped, and his head bowed. For once silence had fixed its seal upon his lips, no inspiring speech fell from them. He had been suddenly swept back into a past he had striven these twenty years and more to forget, and his memories shaped themselves fantastically. Surely if ever a man had quitted the world that knew him, he was that man! He had died and yet he lived—lived horribly, without soul or heart, the empty shell of a man.

A turn in the road brought them within sight of Boggs' race-track, a wide, level meadow. The judge paused irresolutely, and turned his bleared face on his friend.

"Well stop here, Solomon," he said rather wearily, for the spirit of boast and jest was quite gone out of him. He glanced toward Carrington. "Are you a resident of these parts, sir?" he asked.

"I've been in Raleigh three days altogether," answered Carrington, and they continued on across the meadow in silence.

Here were men from the small clearings in homespun and butternut or fringed hunting-shirts, with their women folk trailing after them. Here, too, in lesser numbers, were the lords of the soil, the men who counted their acres by the thousand and their slaves by the score. There was the flutter of skirts among the moving groups, the nodding of gay parasols that shaded fresh young faces, while occasionally a comfortable family carriage with some planter's wife or daughter rolled silently over the turf.

The judge's dull eye kindled the haggard lines that streaked his face erased themselves. This was life, opulent and full. These swift rolling carriages with their handsome women, these well-dressed men on foot, and splendidly mounted, all did their part toward lifting him out of his gloom.

A cry from Hannibal drew his attention. Turning, he was in time to see the boy bound away. An instant later, to his astonishment, he saw a young girl who was seated with two men in an open carriage, spring to the ground, and dropping to her knees put her arms about the tattered little figure.

"Why, Hannibal!" cried Betty Mayroy.

"Miss Betty! Miss Betty!" and Hannibal buried his head on her shoulder.

"What is it, Hannibal; what is it, dear?"

"Nothing, only I'm so glad to find you!"

"I am glad to see you, too!" said Betty, as she wiped his tears away. "When did you get here, dear?"

"We got here just today, Miss Betty," said Hannibal.

Mr. Ware, careless as to dress, scowled down on the child. He had favored Boggs with his presence, not because he felt the least interest in horse-racing, but because he had no faith in girls, and especially had he profound mistrust of Betty. She was so much easily portable wealth, a pink-faced chit ready to fall into the arms of the first man who proposed to her. But Charley Norton had not seemed disturbed by the planter's forbidding air.

"What ragamuffin's this, Betty?" growled Ware disgustedly.

But Betty did not seem to hear.

"Did you come alone, Hannibal?" she asked.

"No, ma'am; the judge and Mr. Mahaffy, they fetched me."

The judge had drawn nearer as Betty and Hannibal spoke together, but Mahaffy hung back. There were gulfs not to be crossed by him. It was different with the judge; the native magnificence of his mind fitted him for any occasion.

"Allow me the honor to present myself, ma'am—Price is my name—Judge Slocom Price. May I be permitted to assume that this is the Miss Betty of whom my young protege so often speaks?"

Tom Ware gave him a glance of undisguised astonishment, while Norton regarded him with an expression of stunned and resolute gravity.

Betty looked at the judge rather inquisitively.

"I am glad he has found friends," she said slowly. She wanted to believe that Judge Slocom Price was somehow better than he looked, which should have been easy, since it was incredible that he could have been worse.

"He has indeed found friends," said the judge with mellow unction, and swelling visibly.

Now Betty caught sight of Carrington and bowed. Occupied with Hannibal and the judge, she had been unaware of his presence. Carrington stepped forward.

"Have you met Mr. Norton, and my brother, Mr. Carrington?" she asked.

The two young men shook hands, and Ware improved the opportunity to inspect the new-comer. But as his glance wandered over him, it took in more than Carrington, for it included the fine figure and swarthy face of Captain Murrell, who, with his eyes fixed on Betty, was thrusting his eager way through the crowd.

Murrell had presented himself at Belle Plain the day before. For upward of a year, Ware had enjoyed great peace of mind as a direct result of his absence from west Tennessee, and when he thought of him at all he had invariably put a period to his meditations with, "I hope to hell he catches it wherever he is!"

More than this, Betty had spoken of the captain in no uncertain tones. He was not to repeat that visit.

As Murrell approached, the hot color surged into Betty's face. As for Hannibal, he had gone white to the lips, and his small hand clutched hers desperately.

Murrell, with all his hardihood, realized that a too great confidence had placed him in an awkward position, for Betty turned her back on him and began an animated conversation with Carrington and Charley Norton.

Hicks, the Belle Plain overseer, pushed his way to Murrell's side.

"Here, John Murrell, ain't you going to show us a trick or two?" he inquired.

Murrell turned quickly with a sense of relief.

"If you can spare me your rifle," he said, but his face wore a bleak look.

"Don't you think you've seen about enough, Bet?" demanded Tom. "You don't care for the shooting, do you?"

"That's the very thing I do care for; I think I'd rather see that than the horse-racing," said Betty perversely.

Betty now seated herself in the carriage, with Hannibal beside her, quietly determined to miss nothing. The judge, feeling that he had come into his own, leaned elegantly against the wheel, and explained the merits of each shot as it was made.

"I hope you gentlemen are not going to let me walk off with the prize?" said Murrell, approaching the group about the carriage. "Mr. Norton, I am told you are clever with the rifle."

"I am not shooting today," responded Norton laughingly.

Murrell stalked back to the line.

"At forty paces I'd risk it myself, ma'am," said the judge. "But at a hundred, offhand like this, I should most certainly fail—"

"It would be hard to beat that—" they heard Murrell say.

"At least it would be quite possible to equal it," said Carrington, advancing with Hannibal's rifle in his hands.

It was tossed to his shoulder, and poured out its contents in a bright stream of flame. There was a moment of silence.

"Center shot, ma'am!" cried the judge.

"I'll add twenty dollars to the purse!" Norton addressed himself to Carrington. "And I shall hope, sir, to see it go into your pocket."

"Our sentiments exactly, ma'am, are they not?" said the judge.

"Perhaps you'd like to bet a little of your money?" remarked Murrell.

"I'm ready to do that too, sir," responded Norton quietly.

"Five hundred dollars, then, that this gentleman in whose success you take so great an interest, can neither equal nor better my next shot!" Murrell had produced a roll of bills as he spoke.

Norton colored with embarrassment. Carrington took in the situation.

"Wait a minute," he said, and passed his purse to Norton. "Cover his money, sir," he added briefly.

"Thank you, my horses have run away with most of my cash," explained Norton.

"Your shot!" said Carrington shortly, to the outlaw.

Murrell taking careful aim, fired, clipping the center.

As soon as the result was known, Carrington raised his rifle; his bullet, truer than his opponent's, drove out the center. Murrell turned on him with an oath.

"You shoot well, but a board stuck against a tree is no test for a man's nerve," he said insolently.

Carrington was charging his piece.

"I only know of one other kind of target," he observed coolly.

"Yes—a living target!" cried Murrell.

CHAPTER XII.

The Portal of Hope.

"This—" the speaker was Judge Price; "this is the place for me. They are a warm-hearted people, sir; a prosperous people, and a patriotic people with an unlimited love of country. I'd like to hang out my shingle here and practice law."

The judge and Mr. Mahaffy were camped in the woods between Boggs' and Raleigh. Betty had carried Hannibal off to spend the night at Belle Plain.

Plain.

"I crave opportunity, Solomon—the indorsement of my own class. I feel that I shall have it here," resumed the judge pensively. "Will you stroll into town with me, Solomon?" he asked. Mahaffy shook his head.

"Then let your prayers follow me, for I'm off!" said the judge.

Ten minutes' walk brought him to the door of the city tavern, where he found Mr. Pegloe directing the activities of a small colored boy who was mopping out his bar. To him the judge made known his needs.

"Go in to locate, are you?" said Mr. Pegloe.

"My friends urge it, sir, and I have taken the matter under consideration," answered the judge.

"Well, the only empty house in town is right over yonder; it belongs to young Charley Norton out at Thicket Point Plantation."

The house Mr. Pegloe pointed out was a small frame building, it stood directly on the street, with a narrow porch across the front, and a shed addition at the back. The judge scuttled over to it. The judge's pulse quickened. What a location, and what a fortunate chance that Mr. Norton was the owner of this most desirable tenement! He must see him at once. As he turned away to re-cross the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

(To be Continued.)

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paragoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

One of Aden's Famous Tanks

The climate of Aden, the Red Sea port, is dry and intensely hot, and water there is a valuable commodity. The famous tanks of Aden are natural rock cisterns situated in a deep gorge behind the city and were used in the days of medieval prosperity. They have since been greatly improved by masonry additions and are connected by aqueducts to prevent overflow. When an appreciable quantity of rain water is collected in the tanks, it is sold by auction by the authorities and the purchaser retails it to the public.

You'd Like a Second Cup of Coffee—

And maybe a third, at your dinner.

But you are afraid of it. Coffee makes you nervous—gives you a headache—heartburn—or indigestion.

"Here's a cup that smells like fine coffee—"

"Tastes like fine coffee—"

"It is fine coffee—isn't it?"

"Never mind. Drink as many cups as you like. It won't hurt you, no matter how sensitive your stomach is. It is good for you!"

"Well, if it is not coffee it must be

Fitch's Grains of Health

The Coffee Substitute With the Coffee Taste

The only substitute in all the world that has the coffee flavor and the coffee satisfaction—without one of coffee's bad after-effects.

In coffee, it is caffeine that causes all the trouble.